Jefferson High Renovation

Hassle Continues

The much haggled-over Jefferson High School renovation project popped up again at Tuesday night's Jefferson Union High School District Board meeting.

Architects and school officials expressed doubt as to whether the project would be completed by the March 30 deadline date.

The James E. Roberts Company, contractor on the project, was again criticized for the slowness at which the project is proceeding.

According to a conference held by architects and school officials, the construction operation "seemed to be extremely inefficient."

They urged that greater speed be attained by stepping up the efficiency of the programing of the project.

The project was originally scheduled to be completed in January, but the construction workers' strike forced an extension until March.

"It seems almost impossible for them to meet the deadline on the completion date," said Ed Morgan, district superintendent.

In other business, Morgan reported to the board that the Chinese foreign language class at Westmoor is going "extremely well." Morgan stated that professor Kai-yu Hsu, director of the Carnegie project, said that the project "exceeds anything that I have ever seen in foreign language, and that some of the students were actually already speaking Chinese."

The board also heard a report from business manager Fred Goodell on the hot water pipe trouble at Westmoor. Preliminary investigation indicates that moisture has collected between the pipes and their supposedly "waterproof coverings," causing an electrolic action which deteriorates the metal.

If further investigation substantiates this theory, it could mean that the entire piping system would have to be replaced —a project which could cost the district more than $40,000.

The board also approved an application from the district asking the federal government for $13,500 in federal funds to help pay for the recent storm damage at Terra Nova High School. The district is currently using its own funds to alleviate the drainage problems.

On the brighter side, the district accepted the donation of a V-8 engine for the Industrial Arts department at Oceana High School from Sears Roebuck and Company.

4-Year School No. 1 Project

Newly elected 27th Assembly District Representative Leo Ryan said this week he will legislate for a better east-west roads system in San Mateo County and for a county 4-year-college.

Democrat Ryan, elected by a 64 per cent majority, will be sworn in January 1 on the assembly floor as a representative of over a quarter of a million people.

His district includes Daly City, Pacifica, Brisbane, Colma, South San Francisco, San Bruno, Millbrae, Burlingame, a portion of Hillsborough and the northeast portion of San Mateo.

Ryan said the vote was "significant" because it showed that the voters wanted someone they were familiar with.

A four-year college for San Mateo County, he added, is his "No. 1 project."

Next comes improvements on the east-west roads system, which Ryan adds, is "not totally a matter of state responsibility."

Need is great for a better east-west road system in the North County, he said.

The coast range in general has discouraged the normal development of roads. Cities have became somewhat isolated from each other. This is true all the way up the county. There is also some isolation within each of the cities from east to west.

"It is very difficult to get from the east to west in the cities," Ryan said.

Education

Ryan believes he will be of assistance in drafting state legislation on education for which two-thirds of state monies are spent.

Speaking of himself in the assembly as a "new guy on campus," Ryan added: "I know I can't go in and change the world. I will work for those things of immediate importance to our own area or which would improve the system of government in the state in some way."

Ryan will continue to serve out his term as mayor of South San Francisco. A teacher of government at Capuchino High School, Ryan and his wife, Peg, are the parents of five children.

A member of the South San Francisco city council for ten years, the tall, dark-haired and handsome Ryan initiated and led the fight against jet noise in north county and was instrumental in getting the U. S. government to step in. He ran for assemblyman in the old 25th district against Louis Francis in 1958 and lost by a narrow margin.

Jeff-SSF In Peninsula's Oldest Prep Grid Rivalry

By GARRY NIVER

The Autumn air is crisp and nippy and a friendly tension can be felt all over the North Peninsula as time for the Big Game draws near.

Friday night at Clifford Field in South San Francisco the Jefferson Indians and the South San Francisco Warriors will clash in the 38th renewal of the Peninsula's oldest football rivalry.

The traditional clash dates back to 1924, when the Warriors from the old Spruce street school blitzed the Indians, 50-0. It wasn't until 1928 that Jeff won a game, upsetting the Warriors, 13-7.

Jeff's biggest win was in 1953, when quarterback Ray Rosa led them to a 40-6 win over South San Francisco.

Since that first game on Thanksgiving Day in 1924, So. San Francisco has annexed 19 wins and Jeff 14 wins, with four of the contests ending in ties.

As usual, past records and performances will be cast aside as the emotional elements of spirit and desire usually prevail over the physical capabilities and the press clippings of the previous games. The traditional has outlasted five different leagues. This year the contest will be a North Peninsula League affair.

Rash Of Fender Benders On Skyline

The fog was thick and visibility shortened last Friday during a rash of fender-benders on Skyline boulevard in Daly City.

Cars were skidding about and for awhile there was mass confusion as some 16 autos cracked up between Alemany boulevard and John Glenn drive.

Most seriously injured was Judith G. Coastes, 17, a student from Hillsborough, who suffered a head injury when her car skidded into the rear of an auto driven by Eleanora B. Friedricksen, 43, Pacifica, postal clerk.

It all started about 1:30 p.m. as officer James Bergstrom and members of the Pacifica police department were investigating a two car mishap at Edgemar and John Glenn drive at the very far reaches of Westlake Terrace.

About this time a second crash occurred in which the girl was injured. Bergstrom drove the girl to the hospital.

Then another accident was reported in which three were arrested on drunk charges. Officer Rich Brewer said the men, Ray Jones Curtis, 39, of San Francisco; Joe Moss, 53, of Palo Alto and Eddie Redric, 28, of San Francisco, were wandering around the road in the fog and were cited for being drunk in a public place.

As officers placed flares around vehicles stopped in the accidents, other cars skidded and swerved as they came up too fast through the fog. On a few occasions the officers had to jump out of the way to dodge passing autos.

Officer Richard deLosa investigated a crash in which B. N. Reynolds, 20, of 1476 Madiera drive, Pacifica and Brian Reynolds, 4 months, were treated at Westlake Medical Center.

Police also investigated crashes on Alemany boulevard and Southgate avenue.

Joe Arch Gets Kudos

Finance Dept. Praised

The Daly City finance department received compliments last night from city auditor Al Belotz because of improvements instituted in the finance department to stop leakage and wasteful spending.

Belotz told the city council the $2,924,778 budget for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1962 checked out in all funds and in all departments.

"We satisfied ourselves that the internal control of the finance department is very adequate and improving," Belotz said. Years ago Daly City's budget was thrown out of balance thousands of dollars through failure to anticipate revenues.

Finance director Joseph Arch has instituted the following measures:

1) Installed a voucher payable system, streamlining the operation to the extent that this operation is cut from four to two phases in payment of the city's bills. The operation now provides up to date information on the status of every expenditure account.

2) Took a complete account of fixed assets, such as furniture and other equipment owned by the city and assigned an equipment number to each article owned by the city.

County Prepared In Civil Defense

During the recent Cuban crisis, thousands of calls flooded the Disaster Office of San Mateo County.

The public was thirsty for information. "What would we do. Where are there shelters."

Dallas Radcliffe, newly-appointed deputy civil defense coordinator for San Mateo County, is trying to find the answers to these questions. Under his leadership, San Mateo County is becoming one of the best-prepared counties in civil defense in this area.

At a Rotary luncheon in Daly City last week, Radcliffe commented that the county will assist cities—both weak and strong—in the event of a natural or man-made disaster.

Radcliffe is coordinating 17 incorporated districts, compiling manpower lists and equipment lists and lists of fallout shelters.

If the county needs equipment in terms of an extreme emergency, it can move in, under authorization of the state disaster act, and request supplies from organizations.

Radcliffe's operational area includes the 17 incorporated cities in San Mateo County, the unincorporated areas and the special districts, such as water, police protection, sanitary, sewer, port authority and school districts.

Commenting on the recent Cuban scare, Radcliffe said, "I was terrified that we might be attacked and would not be ready. An awful lot of groundwork is still to be done until we are in operational readiness."

The county disaster council is composed of all the elected officials of the county, one official from each jurisdiction having a vote.

TV and RADIO

By Mona Baker

More hours are spent by children in front of their television sets than are spent in school. This rather shocking statistic is especially frightening when we examine the TV fare offered for those young appetites.

However, this fall we're delighted to discover that the networks and local stations are making an earnest effort to improve the situation with programs that are entertaining as well as educational.

Bouquets to two new children's series over KPIX, WBC's new series of children's special premiered last week and was excellent television. Coming programs include "First Concert," "Black Nativity," "Baird's Eye View" and "People and Other Animals." An important addition for the bicycle set is "The New Element" (Sun. 3 p.m.) slanted toward youngsters in the 5-6th grade. Back too, on Channel 5 is "High School Salute" (Sat. 3 p.m.) which highlights Bay Area schools stressing scholastic as well as school activities.

Two new network children's shows rate applause. "Discovery," ABC's new weekday show (KGO-TV, 4:30 p.m.) has created quite a stir throughout the country with requests pouring in for "Discover '62" book lists.

Equally well received is NBC-TV's education series "Exploring" (KRON-TV, Sat. 11:30 a.m.) with teachers' guides mailed every three weeks to principals of 70,000 elementary schools.

Do encourage your youngsters to watch these programs. As you select their reading material, select their television programs and your children will grow into better informed adults.

An exciting day is in store for the 50 Plus Club of Pacifica this week. A large delegation from the club will travel down to the KGO-TV studios to watch a telecast of ABC-TV's Ernie Ford Show that goes coast to coast.

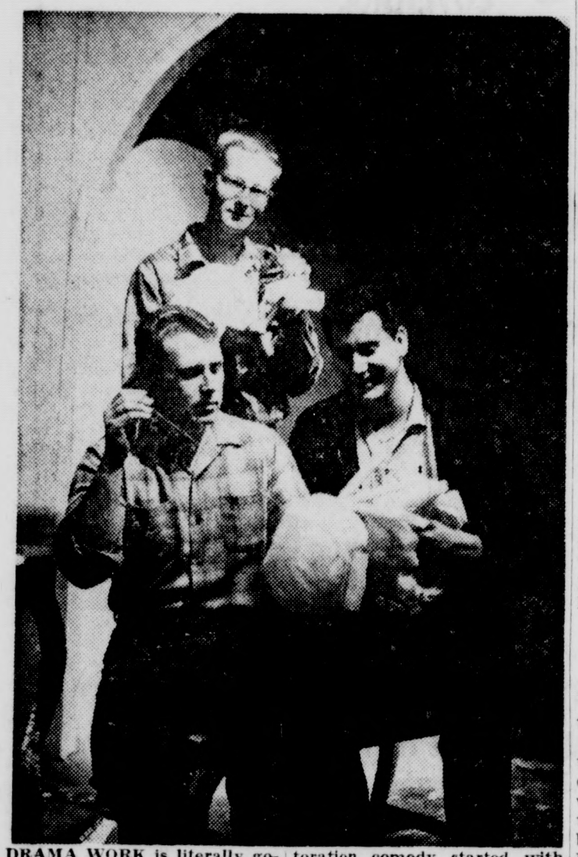
New Morris Plan Co. Office In Daly City

Nov. 5 marked the opening of the 31st office of The Morris Plan Company of California at 40 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City, in the Westlake Shopping Center, according to an announcement by Ralph N. Larson, President.

With the opening of this new office, Morris Plan thrift and loan services are extended to many more residents and businessmen in this rapidly growing greater San Francisco area. This new office commences operation under the electronic data processing system to which the company is in the process of converting all its offices. This new system enables greater speed and efficiency in serving the public.

Harold M. Gilmore, Assistant Secretary, has been named Manager of this office. He has been associated with Morris Plan for nearly 15 years in its San Francisco and Oakland offices. He and his family live in the Westlake area at 1084 Wildwood.

The Morris Plan Company of California, a pioneer of consumer credit, was founded in San Francisco in 1916. Its steady growth over the past 46 years has made it the largest company of its kind in America. Resources are now more than $100 million and thrift accounts, on which the company pays four and one-half per cent yearly interest, are held by nearly 30,000 Californians. Loans up to $10,000 are granted to individuals, and to businesses in larger amounts. It also handles a substantial amount of times sales financing.



DRAMA WORK is literally going to the heads of these College of San Mateo actors: Mike Wright of Daly City (seated left), Jim Clenney of Redwood City and Max Becraft of San Carlos (standing), as they struggle to make their own wigs for the mid-November production of "The School for Scandal." For student cast members, preparation for their roles in the elaborately-staged Restoration comedy started with learning to use a needle and thread. Then the intricate process of creating the 18th century headpiece began, under the supervision of instructor Ronald Weidman, technical director of the play. The results of their wig-making and their weeks of play rehearsals will be seen at the Naval Reserve auditorium in San Mateo in three performances, November 15, 16 and 17.

Vista Mar School News

The children in Mrs. Peggy Christgau's fifth grade class at Vista Mar have been studying colonial life centering around the original 13 colonies.

As one of the culminating activities, members of the class prepared reports. They could be either written or oral. The written reports were in booklet form with covers, formats, and detailed bibliographies.

Another culminating activity was a mural done in the cubism style. The mural depicts many aspects of life in our early settlements. It was cleverly titled "Colonial Squares."

Centered also around this unit of "Colonial Cultures" were large individual figures of the various explorers which were drawn, painted, and cut out by individual students. These explorers were then organized in sequence to form a historical time line.

These related activities evolved from the social science unit and correlated for children meaningful experience in fundamentals of research, language arts, reading, and spelling.

Best wishes and farewells were expressed with coffee and cookies as the three student teachers were leaving Vista Mar for new district assignments.

The departing student teachers are: Mrs. Deanna Monasch, first grade; Miss Maurine Daley, second grade; and Mrs. Cleo Nogara, third grade, who have been working with resident teachers Mrs. Paula Shepard, Miss Mary Helen Monroe, and Miss Peggy Dwyer.

Mrs. Helen Boyle's first grade at Vista Mar won the PTA membership award, having 90 per cent of the parent membership.

Fernando Rivera

The sixth graders at Fernando Rivera School had an assembly related to the social studies unit on Mexico, Friday, November 2.

The speaker was Julius F. Castelan, the state president of the Mexican-American Political Association. Mr. Castelan is a resident of Daly City and a citizen of the United States. However, he was born in Mexico and still does considerable traveling between the two countries. He briefly reviewed the major historical events of Mexico before speaking of modern times.

Castelan reminded the children of their many opportunities in the free public school system in the United States as compared to many children in Mexico who seldom reach the sixth grade. However, of special interest to the children was his description of a new policy of "instant schools" in Mexico. Under this plan, a new 10-room "instant school" building is put up every day. In this way Mexico is striving to provide more and better education for its children.

Cancer Society Takes Orders For Yule Cards

The San Mateo County branch of the American Cancer Society is now accepting orders for three different types of Christmas cards to help the fight against cancer.

Mrs. Arthur Zamel of Hillsborough designed two different cards, which have been available at the ACS's headquarters at 117 South B street in San Mateo.

Now a third type, contributed by Mrs. Leila Wheeler of Orinda, is being offered. The cover features a crimson and white Christmas tree superimposed on the society's symbol — the sword of hope — against a soft white background.

The inside of this card is mato white so that personal messages may be conveniently written in.

All three cards are suitable for use by business firms or individuals, especially those with large mailing lists.

Mrs. Iorin A. Cranson, acting president, said the handsome cards bear a simple message notifying recipients that in the Christmas spirit, a gift has been made in the sender's name to the American Cancer Society.

"It is up to the individual contributor to decide on the amount of the gift to the society, Mrs. Cranson said. "Most donors simply contribute the cost of their previous Christmas mailings."

Those wishing to send samples of the cards may do so at the society's office. Gifts to the local branch for this purpose are tax deductible, since all funds support the ACS year-round program of education, research and service to cancer patients.

Orders should be placed immediately to avoid delay.

Use Low Beam In Fog Driving

With one of winter's most treacherous driving hazards—fog—now confronting motorists almost daily in many areas of California, Bradford M. Crittenden, highway patrol commissioner, offered several tips on fog driving.

"Always use the low headlight beam. The high beam reflects off water droplets and can blind you. Never use parking lights; they not only are ineffective but are illegal to use as driving light. Even if visibility appears adequate without headlights, turn them on. It will help the other driver see you.

"Increase your following distance. A sudden slowdown ahead then won't find you short of room to stop.

"Decrease your speed. You won't be overdriving your visibility range.

"Be alert for side traffic. A car entering from a side road is not readily apparent," the commissioner concluded.

Farrell, Miller, And Blandini Pace PAL Tigers Past Bears

The PAL Tigers, behind the running and passing of Joe Farrell, Mike Miller and Mario Blandini, exploded for a 41-6 win over the PAL Bears last Monday in the Daly City Recreation Department's Eighth-Grade Football League.

Farrell passed for one touchdown and ran for another, while Miller ran for two and caught one TD pass, and Blandini ran one and passed one.

The Tigers' Keith Schiller opened up the scoring parade by flinging a 23-yard paydirt toss to Jerry Neary. Farrell hit Mike Wynne with a PAT pass. Minutes later, Miller took off on a 20-yard scoring jaunt.

Mario Blandini got the third Tiger score when he scampered 22 yards into the end zone. Farrell hit Telvis Jones for the PAT to give the Tigers a 20-0 lead.

Farrell got in the running act when he ripped off a 60-yard TD, and then capped the play by passing to Steve Shoff for the PAT.

Miller made the score 33-0 when he romped 20 yards for a score. Keith Schiller tossed to Miller for the PAT. The final Tiger TD came when Blandini flipped a 10-yard paydirt toss to Neary.

The Bears' only score came when Ron Caserza crashed over from five yards out.

75-Mile Transit Rail Plans Now Underway

Detailed engineering work on the Bay Area's newly-authorized 75-mile rail rapid transit system will be well under way by Christmas, Adrien J. Falk, president of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, said this week.

Initial planning, he said, already has begun for the marketing of the first general obligation bonds necessary to finance the huge project.

Falk's statement came following a final unofficial vote tally which gave the 792 million dollar transit bond issue a favorable majority of 61 per cent in last week's three-county election — 436,550 favorable votes and 277,867 against.

A combined majority of 60 per cent was required for passage.

Falk told the BARTD directors that the actual signing of contracts to begin work on the project, however, must await the official election canvass, which was started earlier this week in Alameda, Contra Costa and San Francisco counties.

First steps will be to employ the services of engineering firms to aid in the purchase and acquisition of rights-of-way, and to prepare the working drawings and specifications that will be used in awarding contracts for construction of the rapid transit system.

The district must also designate banks in San Francisco, Chicago and New York to serve as paying agents for the redemption of bonds.

John M. Peirce, BARTD general manager, recommended recommended that the directors appoint a special committee to study personnel requirements, as well as to seek additional office space for the district.

Actual construction of the rapid transit system is expected to begin in January, 1964, after the preparation of final designs, initial purchasing of rights-of-way and acceptance of contract bids.

First trains can begin operating as early as 1966, Falk said, with the bulk of the system to be completed by 1969. Completion of the entire system is scheduled for 1971.

At last week's board meeting the directors unanimously passed a resolution declaring their official intent to extend the rapid transit system as soon as possible to other communities with in the district, which are not now situated on the planned network.

These include communities "such as Antioch, Martinez, Pittsburg, Pleasanton and San Pablo," the resolution stated.

The remaining 10 per cent goes into the state general fund.

The most recent payment was for the six-month period ending Aug. 31, 1962. San Mateo County as a whole, including unincorporated areas, received $95,105 for the period.

A package store beer and wine license costs the owner $37, with a yearly renewal fee of $12. A general on-sale tavern license costs $6,580 originally, with an annual renewal fee of $580, while a beer and wine only tavern license costs $234, renewable yearly for $84.

According to the California Brewers Association, local governments through the state as a whole received $4,919,888 for the latest period which, coupled with the $5,512,068 received for the period ending Feb. 28, 1962, makes an annual total of $10,431,956.

TURK MURPHY and his Dixieland band will play November 15 at the opening of a new $2 million Alec Membership Shopping Center at 625 El Camino Real in Menlo Park.

Guild Plans Yule Sale

With the holidays in the not too distant future, the members of Mary's Help Hospital Guild make preparations for their annual Christmas Boutique Sale in conjunction with their monthly workshop and meeting November 16, in the hospital meeting room, 145 Guerrero street at 10:15 a.m.

Beautifully decorated candles, gay holiday aprons, mantle, door and table decorations or perhaps that extra little gifty item that is "just right," are only a few of the festive articles to put all in a holiday mood.

Proceeds will add to the Guild's contribution to the new hospital's building fund program. Upon completion the hospital will serve thousands of north county residents.

Pacifica Squares Hoedown Nov. 17

The Pacifica Squares Dance Club will hold its annual Thanksgiving Hoedown on Saturday, November 17.

Calling for the Hoedown will be Gene Brakeman from the Docey Toes and club caller Jim Wylie.

The hoedown will be held at the Pacific Manor School on Highway 1, across from the Super X Market in Pacifica, from 8 p. m. to 11:30 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

Coach McGrath Optimistic Of Indian Chances

An expected capacity audience of 6,000 is expected to be on hand for the kick-off at 8 p.m.

The Indians will be coming into the affair trying to salvage some last-moment prestige in the final grid contest of the 1962 season. The Jeff team is 2-5-1 this year. If they can upset SSF, the season will be considered a success. The Warriors, on the other hand, will still be in contention for the North Peninsula League title if Terra Nova can upset Westmoor Friday afternoon. Both South San Francisco and Terra Nova are deadlocked for second place with 3-1 records. South SF has an overall 5-3 record, losing to Riordan, Capuchino and Westmoor.

Both teams are coming into this contest off wins. Jefferson hit their peak of the season when they buried Oceana, 40-0, last Friday afternoon. South SF grabbed a 13-7 come-from-behind win over Terra Nova last Friday night under the arcs at Clifford Field.

Last year, the Warriors broke the night-game jinx and prevailed 25 to 6. Previously Jefferson had won four straight games since the contest was switched from Thanksgiving Day in 1957 to a night contest.

The Jefferson camp seemed in very confident spirits yesterday.

"I am very optimistic about our chances," said McGrath. "For four straight years, SSF was favored, just like this year, and four straight years we knocked them off," the veteran mentor added.

"Right now we are in pretty good physical shape, except for Larry Ahuna, who has been nursing a sore thumb. However, he is expected to be in shape by Friday and will switch from quarterback to fullback, with Don Fisicaro starting at quarterback," he continued.

"I think that the blocking and tackling evident in last week's game is an indication that the boys are gathering strength for the final contest," McGrath concluded.

The Indians are led by hard-driving halfback Leo Gotelli, who rambled for 108 yards in eight carries against Oceana for a 13.5 yard per carry average. He also scored three touchdowns against the Sharks, including a 75-yarder.

Also included in the Indian repertoire of talent are halfback Rod Harper and new quarterback discovery Don Fisicaro. Harper rolled off 68 yards against Oceana. Fisicaro, in his first starting performance, hit seven out of 10 passes for 57 yards and two touchdowns. He hit end Rich Waller with an eight-yard scoring toss and end Rich Arroyos with a 10-yard paydirt pass.

Up front on the line, the Jeffs are led by all-NPL center candidate Daryl Crist. Boosting Crist are tackles Al Lonstrom and John Fernandez, and guards Armando Cadena and Bob Silber.

The Warriors display a versatile attack with an array of speedy backs and a smooth-throwing quarterback.

Bobby Szehner, Jim Shutz and Jesse Miller provide the speed for the Warriors. Szehner collected 33 yards against Terra Nova last Friday while Shutz was grinding out 36 yards.

In the power department, the blue and white gridders have all-round player Steve Balopulos, who also amassed 33 yards against Terra Nova, and scored both touchdowns and kicked the PAT. Balopulos also kicks off and plays defensive end. Quarterback for the SSF crew is southpaw Rich Wickersham. The slender senior passed for 101 yards against Terra Nova last Friday.

His favorite targets are Rich MacDonald and fleet Bill Gust.

In the line the Warriors are paced by Gary Iacini, Gary Rebholtz, Butch Viat and Rocky McClure.

The names of 20 Indians will echo over the loudspeaker for the final time. Senior Jeff gridders are:

the winner's circle

By GARRY NIVER

Tomorrow night at the Los Angeles Sports Arena two of sport's most colorful figures will square off in a heavyweight fight which has produced more words and controversy than the Eichmann trial.

Loquacious Cassius Clay, who is more verbose than an unspart politician, will meet the elder statesman of the Sport World, Archie Moore, who is also known for his prolific tongue.

Clay, the 20 year old 1960 Olympic games heavyweight champ, comes into the fight undefeated. The brash Negro has claimed that he will be heavyweight champ before he is 21. He has also claimed that Moore, who is aged more than a good bottle of Old Grand Dad, will fold under his fistic barrage within four rounds.

Young Cassius has claimed that he has invented an "old age pension punch" which will send the Old Mongoose into pugilistic oblivion.

ARCHIE MOORE
. . . talked himself tired?

Moore, on the other hand, retired to his salt mine training camp out of San Diego and claims to have developed a "lip-buttoner punch" which is intended to render Clay speechless (if that is possible.)

Both will be gunning for a shot at Sonny Liston's newly-won heavyweight crown. Between the two, Moore has the most to lose should Clay's prognostication come true. The Old Arch is pushing 50 years of age and is not in the best of shape. Should he lose to Clay, he will undoubtedly be through and retire to his rocking chair.

On the other hand, if Clay fails, he will not lose much stature in the heavyweight division. For the number one reason, there is not much stature in the division today. For the number two reason, he is young and possesses natural talents, and with a little more experience could become a first-rate fighter.

Clay has speed, but is unorthodox and often comes in wide open. He readily extends his chin, which will be a big mistake if Moore is around, and trys to be a cutie instead of a fighter.

Waving to the pretty girls in the front row is OK before the fight, but once the opening bell has sounded, it is a very dangerous venture. And maybe Moore will show Clay just how dangerous tomorrow night.

Our prediction? We believe that Moore will give young Cassius a good ten round boxing lesson. Archie may be ancient but he can still think like a sly fox, and Clay's style should be an easy problem for Archie to solve.

Which ever way the fracas ends, it will undoubtedly be an interesting bout and a very wordy affair. Some people even say that there will be more words thrown than punches.

All that we hope is that the two gladiators stop talking long enough to step into the ring and answer the bell. The two could get into a verbal debate which could last through the eve, with nary a punch thrown.

Rams, Tigers Battle For Title

The eyes of the North Peninsula grid world focus on the Westmoor High School field this Friday afternoon when the Rams from the hilltop school host the Terra Nova Tigers from the coastside village of Linda Mar in the season's finale.

Kick-off time for the crucial is 2:45 p.m. in a tilt which will find both teams battling for the NPL crown.

Coach Pete Matisi's Rams have a solid grip on a piece of the NPL crown and are reaching for the entire thing with the other hand. The Rams' 47-0 defeat of El Camino last week cinched them at least a tie for the title. They top the league with a 4-0 record.

Terra Nova, on the other hand, lost their first league contest, 13-7, to South San Francisco last Friday night under the arcs at Clifford Field. The blotch dropped the Tigers into a second-place tie with South SF, both sporting 3-1 records.

Should Terra Nova upset the slightly favored Rams Friday afternoon, the race could end in a three-way tie. If the Rams win, they will be the sole possessors of the first NPL title.

Both clubs figure a few points apart. Matisi's gang was favored at the start of the season and has lived up to its role. Terra Nova was a dark horse and has surprised everyone by staying in the thick of the running.

One thing is for certain. Tiger coach Floyd Gonella will have to have his defensive secondary in the best of shape. The Westmoor passing attack is the most feared on the Peninsula. Ram quarterback Bruce Hix has flung for 903 yards in eight games and is looking to crack the 1,000-yard mark.

Against El Camino last week, Hix hit on seven out of 15 passes for 136 yards. Two of his tosses went for TDs, bringing his season total to 12.

Chief receivers of Hix's bombs are 1961 All-Peninsula League end Steve Schmuck and flanker Tito Torres. Schmuck grabbed onto two passes for 67 yards and one TD against El Camino last week. Torres also had a good day, snagging three for 50 yards and a TD.

The Westmoor team is equally prominent for its rock-ribbed defense. The Matisi defenders, led by Tony Thomas, Ron Baker, Bob Hansen and Mike Bowers, have yielded but 33 points in four league games, while the offense was rolling up 182 points.

The workhorse of the Westmoor backfield is little Mike DeBernardi. The diminutive runner, who has topped the 100-yard per game mark several times this season, gathered 68 yards in 10 carries against Camino last Friday.

Fullback Jim Mahoney will also cause the Tigers much worry. The big fullback ground out 78 yards last Friday to top the day's rushers.

Newcomer to the Ram backfield is the sophomore defensive sensation, Baker. The blond-haired youngster garnered 23 yards in three carries last week, including a touchdown.

The Tigers are led by hard-running back Fred Mason and quarterback Manuel Pick. Mason, at 205 pounds, is one of the most feared runners in the NPL. Last week against SSF he led all rushers for the night with 55 yards in 14 carries. He also romped 83 yards on an intercepted pass which was called back.

Pick, who was an honorable-mention All-PL guard last season, has taken over at the quarterback spot. The versatile senior completed seven out of 14 tosses against SSF last week, good for 81 yards. Denis Caruthers was the top receiver, snagging three aerials for 68 yards. Caruthers also gained another 25 yards on the ground.

In the line, Terra Nova has tackles Roger Mull and Mike Lally, and guard Dan Gentry to give the Westmoor backs trouble.

The conclusion of the 1962 grid season Friday will bring to an end the prep careers of several notable Rams. Included on the graduating list are Schmuck, DeBernardi, Hansen, Torres and Bowers.

Fourth Annual Elk Bowl Grid Game At South SF

The South San Francisco High School football field will be the scene of a colorful band pageant and Pop Warner Football League game on November 17 in the Fourth Annual Elks Bowl.

The pageant will commence at 1:30 p. m.

Capuchino, South San Francisco, Terra Nova and Westmoor high school bands will be performing.

Kick-off for the game will be 2 p. m.. Competing will be the San Bruno Rams and Les Vogel Powergliders, two of the top teams in the league.

The game will decide the championship of the Pop Warner League.

Ed Miller, coach of the Rams, reports his boys are primed to beat the Powergliders, who are coached by Bob Hassing.

Quite naturally, Hassing has his boys in excellent condition and anxious to go into battle with the Rams.

This year, a California Elks Cerebral Palsy aid wagon will be on exhibit. The Marine Corps will furnish the color guard. Members of the Elks lodge will operate refreshment stands.

The entire proceeds and donations from the bowl game will be donated to the California Elks Cebral Palsy Fund. In 1961, the Elks lodges of California donated more than $300,000 to this fund.

At 6:30 p. m., Saturday, November 17, Elks Lodge 2091 of South San Francisco will host the football players, coaches and officials at a special dinner, to be served in the new lodge hall located at Chestnut and Hillside in South San Francisco.

Ram Harriers Are 13th Nationally

The hurrying harriers from the Hilltop ran their way into 13th position in the national rankings of cross-country teams on November 3 at Stanford's Angel Field.

This meet was held concurrently with meets held in Texas, the Midwest, the East and the Northwest. The top team hailed from South Salem, Oregon, with a team time of 50:15.4. Hillsdale from San Mateo is second this year after holding down the top spot last year. Their time, posted at Stanford, was 50:24. Other local teams who turned in outstanding performances were Carlmont, with a time of 50:45, and fourth place; the Northern Peninsula League champs, Terra Nova, with a 51:27 and ninth place.

Westmoor won its 13th spot with a good time of 52:02. The Rams expect to improve to a 50:30 at the next meet on December 8.

Winning his first race of the year was soph. Bob Beukers, as he beat both Dennis Tracy and Chris Bravos in a time of 10:08.8. Tracy was second in 10:01 with Bravos third in 10:11. Mark Clark, 10th, and Milo Torres, 21st, finished up the scoring for the Rams.

This was a new experience for the Ram Harriers as they had never been the two mile route before.

Sharks, Colts In Battle Of Defeated

The long, hard strain of a losing year is swiftly coming to an end for the Oceana Sharks and the El Camino Colts. And as far as the two coaches are concerned—it isn't coming fast enough.

Coach Jess Jones' eleven, composed of sophomores and juniors, have been unable to keep up with the tough four-year varsity schools and have dropped seven straight contests. Coach Tom McCormick's gridders, also in the soph and junior stages, have lost six and tied one.

So it is only fitting that these two tail-enders should meet in the North Peninsula League's season finale. One thing is for sure, the game will bring happiness to one group of fans. Whichever team wins, it will be a first-ever occasion.

Kick-off time for the contest is 2:45 p.m. at the Oceana field.

Both teams are coming off of devastating losses. The Colts lost a 47-0 contest to Westmoor, while the Sharks were dropping a 40-0 affair to the Jefferson Indians.

Off past performances, the Colts should be the favorites. They got up to tie Jefferson, 6-6, two weeks ago, while the Sharks lost to them decisively last Friday.

However, there will be much more present than just ability. Both teams are eyeing that coveted word "victory," which is within their grasp. The fact that they know the other team can be defeated may give the boys the emotional incentive to make it one of the finest ball games played in the area this year.

The Sharks are led by quarterback Steve McCaughey and halfback Tom Summy. McCaughey only hit on two of eight passes against Jeff, but he has shown signs of brilliance in earlier games. Summy is a consistent runner who, with a little help blocking-wise, could be one of the top backs in the league. He gained 33 yards in nine carries against Jeff last week.

Bill McDonald was the top Shark ball carrier with 40 yards in eight carries for a 5.0 average.

The Colts are led by all-round Walt Harris. The shifty halfback and top defensive man created momentary havoc with Westmoor's passing game last week by intercepting two Bruce Hix passes.

John LaSoto is the top Camino ball carrier. The speedy junior sped for 46 yards in 10 tries last week for a 4.6 average per carry.

Camino's top end, Alan Schluep, who just got back into the line-up last week, was again injured and is expected to see little or no action at all.

Pollack Eleven Takes Victory Over Garber's

Captain Mike Pollack's team scored early in the Saturday Flag Football League game when his brother, Steve, playing halfback, intercepted a pass and on the second play from scrimmage scored on a one-yard plunge. The conversion failed and they led, 6-0.

The next time Pollack's team got the ball, halfback Lance DeRoo, behind some excellent blocking, skirted right end for 20 yards, giving them a 12-0 lead.

In the third quarter, they scored their third touchdown when Steve Pollack threw to end Ed Fitzgerald in the end zone and once again the conversion failed. Going into the fourth period they led, 18-0, but Garber's team finally caught fire.

Quarterback Greg Agar threw a pass to Garber in the end zone for six points and the conversion failed.

The next time they got the ball, Agar again threw to Garber for their second touchdown and made the conversion on a pass from Agar to end Tom Wilcox and this put them behind, 18-13.

However, neither team was able to score again as time ran out. Other players on the winning team were Mario Rizzo, Mike Ednoff, Marc DeRoo, Jay Haymaker, Ron Sherman, Pat Ryan and Mike Carthy. Other players on the losing team were Guy Aronson, Scott Ghilarducci, Mike Johnson, Bill Villalon, Gred Raymond, Dave Pollack, Bruce Mason and Mike Corso.

On Saurday, November 17, at 10 a. m., a soccer clinic will be held at the Benjamin Franklin School for all youngsters in the seventh and eighth grades int the basic skills and fundamentals of the sport.

A couple of former soccer all-Americans will be on hand to demonstrate and teach all those attending. The cilinic will conclude at approximately 12:30 p. m.

Cahill Judoists Host Tourney

Rapidly taking shape along San Mateo Avenue in downtown San Bruno is a new gymnasium for the Cahill Judo Academy.

The family of the late judo great, John Cahill, is building the $38,000 judo "dojo" in his name at 635 San Mateo Avenue.

The building will be one-story, of concrete block construction 25 by 125 feet in size.

Builder is Joe Welch of Millbrae, a former Cahill pupil. The gym should be open early next year. It will offer instruction in traditional and competitive AAU judo, as well as a slim-trim class for girls.

The school has been operating in recent years through the cooperation of the South San Francisco School system, using the high school gymnasium. It also holds classes at San Mateo's Masonic Lodge.

The new gym was the envisionment of the late John Cahill, a founder of the American Judo Federation, who died in July.

Meantime, the north county judoists are preparing for the big meet of the new judo season. They will host the 300 member Judo Black Belt Federation Fall Promotional Tournament at South San Francisco High School Sunday, November 18.

The local judoists picked up eight wins, 10 draws and 10 losses in the Palo Alto Invitational Tournament over the week end.

Those earning wins were Rick Ramirez and Joe Souza, Brown Belts, of South San Francisco; Ed Nettleman, White Belt, San Francisco, in the adult class.

Intermediates, or those 16 years of age and under, registering victories:

David Shurtz, Hillsborough, two wins; Tom Alvey, South San Francisco; Hector Serrato, Daly City; and Rich Randolph, Woodside.

Ram, Jeff Cagers Tie For Class D Crown

Westmoor Rams 110 and 120 hoopsters, for the first time in Westmoor's history, have put up a combined effort and taken dual championships in the new North Peninsula League.

Ram '20 cagers won their league with a 10-0 season topped off with a final coastal victory over Terra Nova, 52-17, last Thursday on the Tiger court.

The 110 hoopsters, however, had to settle for a tie for first with arch-rival Jefferson, both registering outstanding 9-1 records. The one loss of the Ram and Indian cagers came at the hands of each other.

In the second game of the season, Ram stalwarts edged Jeff's Indians, 24-22, and this seemed to prove only incentive for Jeff as they bounced back for a 23-16 victory and consequently a tie for the league championship.

Ram's 110s trounced Terra Nova's 110s last Thursday by a score of 42-17 in a one-sided contest.

Roger Foss and Ken Liss combined to score 25 points, enough to beat the Tigers. Other Ram scorers include Dan McGowan, Dan Corcoran, Greg McCarthy and Bill Blum.

Westmoor's 120 hoopsters never trailed as they walloped the Tigers, 52-17, marking the eighth time in ten games that the '20s' have scored more than 40 points.

Herb Miniken led the Ram offensive attack with ten points. He was closely followed by Jim Fair and John Putnam with eight points each, Tom Parker and Joaquin Andrade with seven points each, and Steve Zarate with six. Other scorers include Bob Bishop with four points and Larry Castle with two. Ram defensive unit composed of Steve Zarade and Jim Fair held the Tigers to only 17 points.

Colma Gridders Jolt Alta Loma

The Colma Junior High gridders continued on their winning ways by defeating Alta Loma, 10-0, last week. The Trojan attack was led by the running of Keith Stoller, scoring on a 23-yard end run with good line blocking by his teammates.

Late in the third quarter, left-halfback Mike Jones passed to John Alverez for 15 yards and Alverez ran another 13 yards for the score.

The last score came with two minutes left. Mike Houston caught the Alta Loma quarterback for a safety.

Colma's offensive line was led by Steve Bowen, Jim Tarantino, Ken Starr, Dave Erdman and John Alverez.

The defensive team continued its fine work by holding Alta Loma scoreless. The attack was led by Jim Tarantino, Nick Miranda, George Wallace, Bob Banos, John Kirby, Don Monohan, Serafin Mora and Nelson Marston.

Several other youngsters looked impressive in their first matches. These included Chuck Tabucci, Daly City; Gary Hall, South San Francisco; Mark Tabucci, Daly City; Steve White, Hillsborough; Gilbert Serrato, Daly City; Kelly Condon, Millbrae; Jeff Volosing, South San Francisco; and Ed Randolph, Woodside.

Steelhead trout, according to the National Automobile Club, often live to be seven years old.

Gazzano, Markovich Top Divoteer Open Golfers

Louis Gazzano and Pete Markovich toured the sprawling Silverado golf course in two-over-par 74s to grab low honors at last week's Sixth Annual Divoteer Open.

Some 58 Daly City residents made the trip to the Napa Valley course to participate in the annual event. Larry Silvestri was third with a 78. John Gieger carded a 79 to nab fourth place in the low gross division.

In the blind-bogey Class A handicap, Ray Guisti fired a net 68 to grab the top honors. Close behind was Charles Munday with a 69. Joe Rice and Dan Carodi tied for third spot with net 71s.

In the Class B division, popular Cypress Hills golf course manager Gus Pedemonte was the recipient of low honors with a net 66. Tony Zidich was second with a 70. Ed Byrne was third place runner-up with a net 71, and one stroke behind him in fourth place was Jesse Goodin with a 72.

SF State Symphony Orchestra Concert

Wendell Otey will conduct the San Francisco State College symphony orchestra Monday, November 19, at 8:30 p. m. in the main auditorium. Walter Haderer will be the assistant conductor.

Graduate student Kensey Stewart has composed "Prelude and Fuget for Orchestra" for the evening's concert. Bartok's "Two Pictures," Op. 10, "Flowering," and "Country Dance" will also be included in the program.

Dr. Hadered will conduct Mendelssohn's Hebrides Overture. The piece was dedicated to the Philharmonic Society in London and first performed by them in 1832. Vincent d'Indy's tone poem, "Istar," will be still another orchestral offering.

It's SPARE TIME

at Westlake Bowl

By JIM GREALISH

Fifteen-year-old Paul Biancalana set adult bowling back about 20 years last Thursday when he bowled a tremendous 681 series in the Westlake Junior Singles Tournament. After a 237 first game and 210 second effort, Paul started his third with a spare and five consecutive strikes, giving him a potential 700 series until he left two pins in the seventh frame and a split in the ninth. With a spare in the tenth frame and a strike on his final ball, he easily took over first place in the tournament.

Al Balletto became a member of the 600 Club on Wednesday with a 229 game and an even 600 series in the Westlake Classic.

The 915 All-Stars proved to be just that last week as there were nine 600 series shot, with Walt Yazzolino and Rich Clatt leading the way. Walt shot a big 232 game and 632 series, while Rich had a 225 game and 625 series. The Downtown Center Box Office team took high series honors for the night with a 2978 total.

Betty Parmalee and Ralph Stewart ran neck and neck for high game honors in the Broadmoor Mixed Fives League with Ralph winning by one pin on a 189 game. In the series, department, Betty shot 476 and Ralph 527.

Double figures were in order in the Northgate Mixed Fives as Chuck York registered a 199 game and 566 series and Helen Nelson a 433 series.

The "French touch" was much in evidence in the Twilight Mixed Fives as Kay French led the ladies with a 179 game and 490 series, while Lou French was leading man on a big 234 game and 624 series.

In the St. Emydius Mothers' Club League, Shirley Terry took both high game and high series honors with a 164 game and 440 total while Dorothy Quistgard converted the 3-10 split.

A big 203 game for Jo Record led the Tea Timers League while teammate Eleanor Torrigno took high series honors with 533. Split converters were Rose Ford and Anne Enkler, both of whom picked up the 3-10 split.

The ladies really took over leadership in the Sunday Mixed Trio League last week as Virginia Lund shot a 273 game and a 772 four game series while Wonnie Grachaff posted games of 224 and 223 on her way to a 780 series.

The Sunday evening Westlake Wedlocks continue to post outstanding scores. Last week, Steve Zegura led the parade with a 616 series on games of 167-228-221, closely followed by Don Gilliam, who shot a 168-213 and 200 for a 581 total. Leading lady was Mary Warnock with a 508 series and a big high game of 206.

There was plenty of activity in the A-1 Nursery League last week as sponsor Dorothy Mayle and Carmel Davis converted the 3-10 split; Rose Jachetta rolled a 191 high game; Ann Guidico registered an all-spare game, and Sue McCroskey and Donna Ravetti tied for high series with 478.

Plans are being laid for the big fourth anniversary party, to be held Saturday night, December 8. This marks the fourth birthday of Westlake Bowl, and the program will include bowling, dancing and buffet.

Westlake ladies are busy organizing teams to compete in the first annual Northern California Ladies' Team Handicap tournament. Any five W.I.B.C. bowlers may form a team and compete for the many cash prizes. The entry fee is only $3.25 per person.

May Morales joined the 550 Club and almost made the 600 Club, as she shot a 215 game and 594 series to lead the Ladies' 800 Classic League.

Colt Frosh-Soph Beat Ramlings

Bad breaks and "the bomb" prevailed Thursday to hand Westmoor's Frosh-Soph gridders their second loss of the season at the hands of El Camino, 19-7, on Westmoor's field.

The team from South San Francisco got started early with a 50-yard scoring play in the first period. After the kick-off, the Ramlings fumbled with an alert Colt grabbing the ball on Westmoor's 30 yard line. The Ramlings' tough defensive forward wall of Johnson, Glebow, Krnich, Payette, Blaney and Baker made Westmoor's hopes look brighter after they forced El Camino to give us the ball on the one-yard line.

The Colts then sustained a 68 yard scoring drive to make it 13-0.

Taking the kick-off to midfield, the "fired up" Ramlings got on the socerboard with a 45-yard razzle-dazzle TD pass play from quarterback Johnny Heick to his offensive end, Cipriaon. The first half ended with El Camino leading, 13-7.

El Camino took advantage of a blocked punt to score their final touchdown.

Football Feature Contest Saturday

The Daly City recreation department's football feature contest was rained out last Saturday and will be played this Saturday, November 17, at Westlake and Marchbanks Parks.

Contest time will be 11 a. m., instead of the originally scheduled 10 a. m.

Rain forced the concellation of the contest and the recreation Flag Football leagues last weekend.

DFG Quarantines Coastal Mussels

In answer to public inquiries regarding a California Department of Public Health order extending indefinitely this year's summer quarantine on mussels, the Department of Fish and Game has explained the reason for the ban and its extension.

The quarantine applies to all mussels from the ocean shore of California, from Oregon to Mexico, including San Francisco Bay.

Established last May 1, the current quarantine had been tentatively scheduled to end October 31, but has been extended "until further notice" because of continuing high toxicity in mussels collected from coastal waters.

Mrs. Leavick Tops Cypress Golfers

Mrs. W. L. Leavick traveled over the Cypress Hills golf course in a blistering 94-23-net 71 to nab the low honors at last Thursday's Ladies' Guest Day tournament.

Mrs. Henry Rasmussen also carded a 94, minus her 22 handicap for a net 72 and second place.

In the Class B field, Mrs. K. Rueppel fired a 102-3-net 68 to nail down low honors. Mrs. Robert Charles was second with a net 71.

In the Class C division, Mrs. D. Leone came out on top with a net 65. Mrs. K. Frank was second with a net 71. In the low putts contest, Mrs. D. Phillips was tops with 34 putts.

SEA BOWL NEWS

There were no shackles holding Ernest Fox of Park Variety Hardware team in the Ball and Chain League. "Old Ern" hit a high series of 625 with a nice 250-155-220.

Pacifica Travelers had two upsets. First, Helen Freeman beat high game for women with a 198, only to be beaten, in turn, in the third game by Verna Hodgsan with a spanking 201. Congrats, Vera! (P. S. Wife of bowl manager Willard Hodgson.) Her first 200 in any league.

Those effervescent Aquanuts saw three tricky conversions: Lois Talbot, 6-7-10; Jeanette Trickey, 4-7-10, and Sis Petterson. Lois also had high game of the day, 173. A Ackerman swept to high series of 424.

Bendick Construction, De-Julio Chevron and Miles Flying "A" hold the high three spots, respectively.

Hard-working Wilma Joice, secretary of two leagues, holds high series to date with 549.

Shine on Harvest "Moonshiners!" What an interesting night these gals had. A staircase by Josie Lottice, 133-134-135. Neat work! Nina Walsh had a 112 triplicate.

Bring those W. I. B. C. patches on. Their secretary, Connie Bryant, had a dandy 517. Her first 500 of the season.

Bette Baker of Friday Sea Mariners toppled a rousing 500 plus series.

The Glass Man still holds the front line down in this scratch group.

From A Feminine Viewpoint...

By Mona Baker

The night was sparkling clear as the melodic strains of "Tami" and "Moon River" drifted over the bright lights of the city below. The Belle-Tones were holding a rehearsal at the M. Pauline Brown school located high on the hill, so we decided to stop by. In the multi-purpose room the girls were practicing under the direction of talented Patti Stolz for a performance before the school PTA the following evening. As we listened we can well understand why they are in constant demand by local groups because they sing so beautifully.

It was just one year ago that the women's choral group was formed by Patti and gave their first performance before the Crocker-Pershing PTA. They are now under the sponsorship of the Daly City recreation department and have scheduled appearances already into March. Members include Pat McGaughey, Kay Kaufman, Jackie Howe, Jolyne Liberati, Helen Boyd, June Bianchini, Nancy Gensley, Reta Poole, Betty Elliott, Marie Ricetti, Gladys Schultz, Jean Lewin, Betty Vincent, Susan Body and Ruth Hartman, pianist.

New singers are most welcome. If you have had choral experience and enjoy singing with a well trained chorus do telephone Patti at JU 6-2287.

After listening to the Belle Tones who else but Patti could be so deserving to be community leader of the week.

A girl with a simply fabulous musical background she has given a real service to the community in developing the Belle Tones.

She began studying for her musical career back in St. Louis where she belongs to the Washington University Opera workshop and participated in several productions. She also studied at Monticello and Font Banne Colleges and gave her first recital in May 1953. She competed several times in the Metropolitan opera auditions of the midwest and made numerous television appearances. She also was soloist and junior choir director at St. John's Methodist Church in St. Louis.

Since moving to Daly City, Patti told us her singing "has turned to lullabies" because she now has two children.

In addition to her choral work she is music chairman for 17th district PTA and has served as membership chairman and historian for Crocker-Pershing PTA. She is also a teacher in the South San Francisco adult education department.

The Stoltz family, husband, Woody and two youngsters Jeffrey and Sherrice live at 16 Frankfort.

Charming audiences too, whenever they perform are the "Can-Can" dancers of Skyline Assembly of Rainbow Girls who have made numerous appearances before Masonic and Eastern Star groups during the past two years. Show stoppers in black taffeta, flounces of the seven colors of the Rainbow and matching feathers in their hair, the girls "bring down the house" whenever they appear. "Can-Can" dancers include Carol Vanham, Nancy Danielson, Sharon Ellingson, Dorothy Getchal, Leslie Baer, Pat Woodman and Carol Hilton.

Did you know there are now 1600 "Tops Clubs" (dedicated to removing pounds) in the United States with over 40,000 members? A new club has recently been formed in this area, and women interested in solving a weight problem by group therapy and accredited speakers are invited to attend.

Meetings are held on Tuesday evenings at 66 Raymond St., San Francisco. Telephone Ruth Fleming (JU 3-4924) or Dorothy Ray (DE 3-0818) for more information.

All Breed Dog Show Nov. 18

His ancersors came over on the Mayflower, the Cocker Spaniel's did. There were two dogs aboard that historic vessel—a mastiff and a spaniel.

Now, 342 years after the Plymouth Rock landing, more than 100 of that colonial canine's descendents are expected to take part in the Cocker Spaniel Specialty Show billed as part of the San Mateo Kennel Club's 59th annual All Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trials on November 18.

Mrs. Jeanne Bobbitt, secretary of the Bay Cities Cocker Spaniel Club sponsoring the specialty show, says solid black cockers, ascobs (any solid color other than black and including black and tans) as well as parti colors (two colors or tri-colors) will be on hand for the competition at the San Mateo County Fairgrounds.

Historically a hunting dog, cockers nowadays are heavily coated animals. Owners of bench or field dogs must either trim the excess coat or oil it heavily to protect their champions from burrs and thistles.

With the cockers, more than 2,000 purebred dogs will gather at the natioually-ranked Kennel Club trials to compete for 400 trophies and prizes. In addition to extensive competition among 122 different breeds, the all-day event will feature six specialties, besides the Cocker Spaniel Specialty Show, calling attenion to the Borzois, Airedale Terrier, Fox Terrier, Kerry Blue Terrier, Chihuahua and Brussels Griffon.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael May

DC's Nancy Cameron Weds Mike May In Burlingame

The First Presbyterian Church in Burlingame was the setting for the recent holy nuptials between Nancy Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cameron, 211 Maywood Way, South San Francisco, and Michael May, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore May, 503 Palomino drive, Santa Rosa.

The Reverend James MacFarland administered the holy vows.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of organza over taffetta, fashioned with short sleeves. Re-embroidered Alencon lace framed the scoop neckline and was appliqued on the front of the bell skirt. The chapel train was caught at the waist with a bow and streamers with lace applique. Her ensemble was highlighted by a silk illusion veil, caught with a Dior rose. She carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Beverly Prange served as matron of honor. The two bridesmaids were Mrs. Norma Phillips and Miss Bonnylin Adami. The attendants were identically attired in emerald green sheath dresses of silk organza over taffeta. They wore matching shoes, headpieces and white gloves. Each carried a bouquet of gold carnations.

Michael chose Steve Horn to perform the duties of best man. Charles A. Cameron, brother of the bride, and Tom Henderson served as ushers.

The bride's mother chose an aqua sheath with matching shoes and hat for the occasion. She wore a cymbidium orchid corsage.

The groom's mother was present in a gold brocaded dress with jacket, bone shoes and purse. She also wore a cymbidium orchid.

A dinner reception was held at the Chalet in Belmont immediately following the ceremony.

Following their honeymoon at Lake Tahoe, the newlyweds will make their home at 447 South E street, Santa Rosa.

The bride is a graduate of Jefferson High School in Daly City and attended the College of San Mateo. The groom graduated from Grant Union High School in Sacramento and attended Santa Rosa Junior College.

Tulips — Mass Them For Effect

Holland, at tulip time, has become a substitute in many a smitten gardener's mind for Paradise, itself. But you don't have to "go Dutch," the California Association of Nurserymen reminds us. You can enjoy this vision of loveliness in your own backyard by the simple expedient of planting the tulip bulbs now.

Even though tulips look too good to be true, their culture is easy. You still want to set each bulb about six inches deep and six to 12 inches apart. But don't make the mistake of planting them in a straight line like wooden soldiers—and don't plant them sparsely either. For the type of setting that tulips were born to shine in, you will want to mass them heavily.

Some people like to stagger the colors — a group of yellow, then a clump of red ones, etc. Others like a mixed effect—but with some care as to color proximity, i.e., don't place your purples next to your orange-reds. This may be gilding the lily—or the tulip, as it were — since these flowers are actually lovely enough to overcome any handicaps you may impose upon them.

As for which tulips to choose, this is a dizzy but delightful decision. The best way is to visit your local nurseryman and gaze at the color pictures on the bulb racks. Among the many tulip families is the Darwin in rich shades of red, purple, pink, white and yellow.

Breeder tulips come in "arty" shades of brown, bronze, orange, yellow and pink. Crosses of these offer many other shades, including pure glistening whites. The parrot or dragon tulips are large and twisted with feathered petails — including unusual green tones as well as other brilliant shades.

But this is only the beginning. Plan to spend a good while at the tulip bins, and be sure to consult your nurseryman about new varieties that have recently appeared on the garden scene.

17th District PTA Supports Unification Master Plan

At the November 5 Legislative Workshop of the 17th district, PTA, Mrs. David Ellison, Jr., legislative chairman, discussed the legislative policies of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Ellison asked all unit presidents and legislative chairmen of San Mateo County to initiate studies of school district reorganization in their local units. No action will be taken following these studies as they are set up to inform all PTA members on this vital issue.

The CCPT supported AB 1538, which was enacted into law in the 1959 session of the legislature. This law provides that each county committee on school district organization shall prepare and submit to the State Board of Education a master plan for school district organization in its own county by Sept. 15, 1963.

The C.C.P.T. legislation platform includes an item on district organization which states:

"The California Congress of Parents and Teachers will support legislation to encourage reorganization of school districts where such action would better serve the educational needs of children."

It was pointed out by Mrs. L. E. Engleman, president of the 17th district, that the C.C. P.T. does not favor any particular plan for unification but that they will support unification per se.

The program for the meeting was planned and directed by the Public Welfare Committee, Mrs. Earl Oldham, director; Mrs. G. E. Stacey, citizenship chairman and Mrs. J. D. Jackson, recreation and conservation chairman. Host unit was Belle Haven PTA. Guests were welcomed to Belle Haven School by Mrs. Wayman Mitchell, PTA president. Roderick Moore, superintendent of the Ravenswood Elementary School District also spoke about his school district, its assets and its anticipated future.

Yule Decor Demonstration By YW Wives

Setting he pace Nov. 19 for the Y-Wives of Westlake, on Christmas decorations is the YWCA's coordinator Mrs. Eleanor Raymond.

Mrs. Raymond will bring a few finished decorations and demonstrate fully how to make beautiful net trees, paper wreaths and silver stars. Group participation will consist of observing procedures, cutting out patterns, and taking notes on how to make the items.

This activity will take place at 9:30 to 11 a.m. in the Banquet Room of the Westlake Bowl. The women in the community are invited to join in on this program.

The fifty cent fee, which covers the cost of nursery service, coffee and tea served, and the use of facilities at the bowl, will be received by the secretary-treasurer Mrs. Elsie Dab.

"What would the Y-Wives do without Mrs. Raymond?", is a comment often heard among the members. President Mrs. Norma Washford stated "It's wonderful having such an enthusiastic person to keep us going and our interests alive."

Mrs. E. Raymond is a devoted YWCA coordinator who has been affiliated with the organization for seven years. Organizing programs to meet the needs of the Y-Wives and supporting projects too numerous to list, within the YWCA, are challenges accepted by her cheerfully and willingly.

Among other interests, she is an advisor for the Y-Teen and Camp Fire groups. She has also taught Sunday School for her community church.

Mrs. Raymond has two children, a ten year old daughter, Michele and a sixteen year old son, Edward, Jr.

Laguna Honda Is Planning Big Show

On December 4 at 1:30 p.m. the residents of the Laguna Honda Home will have the treat of their lives. Patients from all wards will be moved to the first floor auditorium; that, a colossal job in itself.

The Laguna Honda Volunteers are expending every effort to make this a memorable occasion for the 1800 old men and women who are living out their lives in the Home. Herman Kersken, the well-known producer is putting a tremendous show together. Everyone's time is being donated. Ray Hackett will bring his 21 piece orchestra. He is also planning a routine for his strolling violinists. Pat Mason is busy planning new routines for her dancers.

Charles Lowe of Forbidden City is bringing over his entire act. The pretty Chinese girls will certainly bring a smile to the old, sick, men who are bebrought over en masse from Clarendon Hall, the men's residence.

Ray Goman of the Gay Nineties will be the M.C. All the patients love this gracious, smiling man who has given his time so generously to Laguna Honda. These and many other acts, many of them being kept as surprises, will highlight the day.

Dozens of events are being planned this Christmas for Laguna Honda by the Volunteers, but this will be by far the most exciting day.

BPW Clubs To Sponsor Youth Public Speaking Contests

Many high school junior and senior girls in California this month will begin the first of three public speaking contests to decide the winners for a coveted pre-paid trip to Washington D. C. next Eacter vacation.

Business and Professional Women's Clubs throughout the state are featuring these contests at one of their November meetings. These club contests are the first step in the program of the new "Career Girl Project" of the California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Winners of the November Club contests will compete next in group contests within the District. The final District contests will be held in January or February, at the BPW Winter conferences.

From this group of twelve girls the California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will select the lucky winners whose reward will be a paid-in-full educational trip to Washington D. C. and to New York where they will visit the United Nations with the U. N. Observer of the National Federation of BPW Clubs.

The girls will speak on the contest topic of "Women's progress in the working world," the same speech to be given each time.

"Since one of the most essential factors for success in the business world is the matter of communications, the California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs is sponsoring this Career Girl Project to emphasize the importance of public speaking to future business women," said Craven Douglass of El Segundo, president of the organization.

"We feel too," said Mrs. Douglass, "that the prize award of a trip to the Nation's Capito' and to the United Nations in New York will be of great educational value to the winning high school girls."

Mrs. Douglass and Mrs. Catherine Dobie Peart of Woodland, California, chairman of the Career Girl Project, will chaperone the girls on the trip east.

Multiple Schlerosis Claims Are Reviewed

San Mateo County veterans' service officer, Floyd D. Granger, today stated that veterans multiple schlerosis claims previously filed but denied are now being reviewed under provisions of a new law.

According to Granger, recently enacted Public Law 87-674 alows a seven-year presumptive period rather than the former three-year period for presumption of service connection in multiple schlerosis among veterans. Accordingly, the Veterans Administration is reviewing case files of previously denied multiple schlerosis cases.

Granger suggests that it is possible for certain cases to be missed, and urges veterans wishing to reactivate their claims for possible service connection of multiple schlerosis to check with the San Mateo County veterans' service officer at the courthouse in Redwood City.

"However, only claims of living veterans are subject to review," says Granger. "No review is being made of deceased veterans who were afflicted with the condition during their lifetime."

Granger said the widow or other dependents of a deceased veterans who had multiple schlerosis in his lifetime should contact the county service office for the purpose of reopening their claims to establish possible service connection under this new presumtive period.

Trip To Supermarket

The second graders in Miss Cottrell's class at Olympia School visited the new Safeway Supermarket in St. Francis Heights on October 28. Mr. Perry took the children behind the scenes of a supermarket. They saw the unloading dock and how the merchandise is unpacked. They went through the cold storage rooms and the refrigerated rooms where the perishable products are kept. Then they visited the room where the produce is cleaned and washed before it is put out to be sold. The meat locker was visited and the children saw the meat before it was cut, trimmed and packaged. They watched the cutting, trimming, packaging and the displaying of the meats.

Mrs. Thomas Ayoob accompanied the class on their trip.

TOP SPOTS FOR DINING AND DANCING

Mori's Point Inn
A Romantic Spot To Dine

"Seagulls nestle on the shoreline making sounds of nightfall. White crested waves crash gently along the beach. A steamer far out in the ocean sets its course toward the Golden Gate Bridge as a spout of black smoke — jetting as from a whale — coasts behind its white wake.

Such a view can be enjoyed at Mori's Point Inn off Highway 1 in Pacifica. Here is pleasurable dining out and dancing at its best — a romantic spot where she or he will want to make several visits.

Dough Hart, your host, promises a well-stocked wine cellar with the best in wine and champagne. Excellent food at reasonable prices is the slogan. Mori's Point features rustic decor—what one might see in upper New York state. Outdoor lights illuminate the Pacific ocean, surf and beach at night.

For 62 years, people have been coming to enjoy the fine food and beverages. The original building was erected in 1881 by the Mori family, who had settled from Italy. This is the same family which created the now-famous "Buck Cheese."

Doug Hart, your host, first came to Mori's Point in 1926 and after several visits purchased the establishment ten years ago.

Mori's Point Inn has seen many changes in history and in structure through the years. However, one thing will always be retained — the establishment's ability to serve excellent food at reasonable prices.

For dining and dancing at its best, Mori's Point Inn is the place to go.

Turk Murphy Jazz At Alec Store Opening

The new two million dollar Alec Membership Shopping Center will open at 10 a. m. Thursday, November 15, at 625 El Camino Real in Menlo Park, between Middle avenue and Roble avenue.

Grand opening fastivities are scheduled to begin at noon when a motorcade featuring San Francisco's famed Turk Murphy Traditional Jazz Band, aboard a motorized cable car, will start parading through Menlo Park and Palo Alto and return to the Alec parking lot at approximately 1 p. m. The motorcade will include convertibles carrying civic leaders, store officials, Miss Alec and other notables, plus a large mobile billboard.

At the conclusion of the parade, brief dedication ceremonies will be climaxed by the cutting of a huge "dollar bill" at the main entrance by Alec Land, president. "This will symbolize the savings which enable us the increase our members' purchasing power an average of 25 per cent," Land said.

The Turk Murphy Band will play at the main entrance of the new store until 2 p. m., while the motorized cable car provides free rides around the parking lot for children during the rest of the day. The store will be open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. weedays, 9:30 a. m. to 6 p. m. Saturdays, and 11 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Sundays until Christmas.

The Alec store will employ more than 200 people from the Menlo Park-Palo Alto area, and provides acres of free parking much of it under the building.

Shoppers will use easy ramps to reach the 80,000 square feet of shopping area, which includes 43 departments and a complete supermaret, with grocery, meat, produce, dairy and bakery goods departments.

Santa Claus At SeaVue Theatre

The SeaVue theater in Pacifica will present Santa Claus in person, and on the screen for children of all ages at matinees this Saturday and Sunday. SeaVue manager John Heathcote announces showings of this film called "Santa Claus" for the two days with screenings at 11 a. m., 1 p. m. and 3 p. m. Saturday, and 1 p. m. and 3 p. m. Sunday.

Winner of the Golden Gate award for best family film at the San Francisco Film Festival, "Santa Claus" certainly should be seen by all children and young people for it will delight everyone with its magic trip through Santa's Fairyland Castle.

In the movie, there are no elves or gnomes. Instead, there are representative children from the nations of the world and their job is to make tops to thrill children all over the earth.

As an added attraction, King Norman from Norman's Kingdom of Toys will display in the lobby the latest toys from his new store in Westlake Shopping Plaza.

Santa Claus will take time out from his busy schedule to appear in person at the theater on both days, and will personally choose lucky stub tickets at each performance when the holders will be given a pre-Christmas present from King Norman's toy store.

Parents are welcome to accompany children; the price to everyone is 50 cents, or they may just come and look at King Norman's selection of toys free of charge while they wait to pick up the children.

This could be a wonderful chance to get some idea of the children's choice for the visit of that wonderful gentleman on Christmas day, whome we all believe in.

Kit Carson was a mighty man, and a mighty man was he.

Yet, as a boy in his middle teens he ran away from Missouri to become a fur trader and guide in New Mexico.

Back home in Missouri, reports the National Automobile Club, his employer noticed that Kit wasn't around any more, so posted a reward for anyone who would find the boy and return him to his job of work.

The reward for that mighty man to be? One cent!

Fog can also act as a protective cloak for valuable crops. Lettuce plants in California's Salinas Valley, for example, are provided with a moist environment by the regular occurrence of fog. Even though Salinas Valley rainfall is low, the plants do especially well in their fog-shrouded atmosphere. Citrus growers know that fog is an important crop protector—for it acts to conserve heat close to the earth during what might otherwise be a damaging freeze.

William G. Menary, Pioneer In Business

It was 40 years ago that William G. Menary looked to the future and realized the real opportunity of establishing what was to become one of the largest appliance, automotive parts and sporting goods businesses in San Francisco. This he did by opening a small store in the historic old Stanford Hall, located at 1933 Valencia, which was built in 1864.

Growing pains set in about 1933 and William moved his establishment to the northwest corner of Army and Mission.

In 1942, Army street was widened and Mr. Menary took advantage of progress by acquiring and erecting the excellent building at 3142 Mission, which includes 10,000 square feet of display and parts area with complete kitchen planning service.

William G. Menary Company is known as the home of "cheerful service since 1922." Diversification has enabled the business to keep healthy. As William says, "Our salespeople realize they must do more than ring up the cash register, and we work hard to solve individual customer problems. Dealers should sell as wide a range of products as they can without spreading their product knowledge too thin."

William is past president of Mission Kiwanis Club and has various activities in community betterment and child welfare, and has won for himself high esteem in the hearts of the community. Mr. Menary is also past commander of Twin Peaks Post No. 223.

Following in the footsteps of his father, "Bill" Menary is very closely associated with the business as Sales Manager. He is past president of the Mission Lions Club and San Francisco Council of Lions Clubs.

W. G. Menary Company—40 years of progress and still growing. A forward pioneer in business.

SPRING BULBS ARE PERFECT FOR POTS

Spring bulbs are going to pot. At least, more and more people are asking how to grow bulbs in pots. And it's a mighty good idea, say the nurserymen, to point out that bulbs are perfect for pots and pots are perfect for patios and decks. Here, then, are a few tips for coaxing a top performance from potted bulbs.

First, choose the largest bulbs of the species you wan to get. You can only fit a limited number of bulbs in one pot and you want to be sure you get the most bloom from them. With daffodils, however, remember that not all varieties grow from as big a bulb as the giant yellow King Alfreds. Just look for the biggest in each variety or color.

The bigger the container, the more it will stimulate natural growing conditions. A six-inch pot is fine for grape hyacinth, but too small for daffodils. Gallon nursery cans are about the smallest feasible container for the latter.

The potting soil should be rich and loose—peat, leaf mold and loam in equal parts is excellent. Layer gravel or rocks on the bottom of the container and cover them with the mix. Sprinkle bonemeal on this and another layer of mix to cover the bonemeal. The amount of soil you put in before adding bonemeal depends on what bulb you are planting. Just be sure you leave enough room to cover the bulbs to the proper depth.

A gallon can will hold three large daffodils and a dozen small bulbs like grape hyacinth. You can crowd them without worrying. When the bulbs are in place, fill the pot to within a half inch of the top and soak it.

Garlic was known and used by the Chinese more than 2,000 years B. C.

YWCA To Start New Jeff High Girl's Teen Club

All senior high school girls from Jefferson High and private high schools in Daly City are invited to attend the first meeting of a new Y Teen club Monday, November 19, 3:30 p. m., at the War Memorial Building, Room A.

A Y-Teen club is active at Westmoor High School and Westmoor students are invited to join the club there.

Y Teen program offers a chance to belong to an active club with a program of self development, service to the community, and just plain fun.

Advisors for this new group will be Miss Debbie Polychronopoulas and Miss Suzanne White, both students at San Francisco State College. Mrs. Pat Martinez, director of the local YWCA unit, will also be working with the group.

Public Relations Seminar at Mills

Representing the Jefferson Union High School district, Westmoor principal Glenn South was among the all day participants in the Northern California Public Relations Seminar at Mills High School in Millbrae November 3.

The one day conference, sponsored by the Bay Section of the California Teachers Association and the Golden Gate chapter of the National School Public Relations Association, featured presentations by 17 authorities in various aspects of public information and public relations fields.

Offered by representatives of faculty, administration, school board, and community, in the opening session, was a panel presentation on the "Anatomy of School Public Relation." The presentation was followed by informal buzz sessions on the panel material.

During the day, participants in the conference also had the opportunity to attend how-to-do it clinics on various phases of school public relations, including the mechanics of publications, teacher-parent relations, news writing and editing speakers' bureaus, and legislative public relations.

Planned as one of a series throughout the nation, the area seminar provided opportunity for leadership development and exchange of ideas in school information and services to the public.

Psychology Course For SSF Students

Why will one out of every ten people at some time in his life seek psychological assistance? This and many other questions will be investigated in a new psychology course which is being offered to the seniors of South San Francisco High School.

The new elective course covers: child psychology, abnormal psychology, current social and psychological problems (crime, dope addiction, divorce, alcoholism, and other areas), theories, experimental psychology, the varieties of personalities, and the basis and expressions of emotions.

Robert Howe and Lawrence Longwell are the instructors of the course. Both have their Masters Degrees in guidance and psychology. A total of eighty students are enrolled in the classes.

Child observations; mice and rate observations; guest speakers from the fields of psychology, psychiatry, and penology; field trips to modern mental institutions and prisons are some of the planned class activities.

Thomas Edison Girls Softball Enthusiasts

Thomas Edison fifth and sixth grade girls are rapidly becoming smooth and able softball performers. By active participation in the intramural sports program, the girls are acquiring and mastering the physical sills of throwing, batting and catching which will be useful to them in their secondary physical education classes.

The doubts, feats, and the anxieties gripping many of the girls when the program was initiated have since been replaced by feelings of confidence and adequacy. Keen competition between classes and lasses has created an exciting atmosphere as each contest is played.

Interest and anticipation is evidenced by the borrowed baseball gloves tucked beneath the books as the girls arrive at school each morning.

Presently, Mr. Russell's sixth grade girls are leading the league with a respectable score of six wins and one defeat.

However, as the competition stiffens, the lead may change hands before the final game of the season prior to the Thanksgiving holidays.

In the past decade, California's population growth has been 40% by natural increase and 60% by migration.

Westmoor HS Bids In Oratory

Riordan High School hosted the first individual events speech contest for all interested high schools.

Participants from Westmoor on November 10 were Bill Spears, impromptu; Elaine Pistoresi, dramatic interpretation; and Stephanie Lenehan, original oratory.

Carol Cordano, Peggy Hunter, Linda Rundell, Stacy Cusulos, Margaret Mori, Vicki Shelton, and Kim Miller observed these speeches.

In impromptu speaking, Bill was able to choose one out of three topics. From the topic he selected he was given two minutes to prepare a five minute speech. Published literature of recognized merit pertaining to the field of dramatics was used by Elanie. Her speech was approximately ten minutes long, and like Stephanie's, was memorized. Stephanie spoke ten minutes on an original topic.

Contestants had to go through three separate rounds. The impromptu speech had a different topic for each round while the original oratory and dramatic interpretations used the same topic for each round. If the speakers qualified in all three rounds, they were entitled to go on to the semi-finals and finals, and the winning school was given the sweepstakes award.

Brown's Re-Election Predicted By Rams Junior Statesmen

Held October 31 and November 1 and 2 in the Westmoor High School cafeteria, the WHS Junior Statesmen's straw poll predicted the victory of Governor Brown in the statewide election of November 6.

Asked to give their choice of Governor, Westmoor students gave Brown 59 per cent of the total votes cast for the office, while Nixon received 38 per cent and the Prohibitionist candidate, Wyckoff, and the Socialist Labor Party's Herbert Steiner each received 1.5 per cent. In contrast to the great opposition California voters were to show it at the Polls, Proposition 24, the Francis "anti-communist" measure, was defeated by only 3 votes. Differing with statewide totals, Richardson was picked for Superintendent of Public Instruction, trouncing Max Raferty in the 382-221 vote.

Students also gave incumbent U. S. Senator Kuchel a vote of confidence over his opponent, Richards, (374-269). Also returned was Congressman Younger with a lead of 38 over opposing Keller's 305. These votes followed the local trend.

With 37 per cent of the WHS Student Body participating in the poll, seniors led the school in turnout (41%). Juniors and sophomores were the next most active classes (37% turnout apiece), and freshmen were the least active (32 per cent).

When asked to which party they belonged, students reported: Democrat, 41 per cent; Republican, 25 per cent; Independent, 30 per cent; Socialist Labor, 2 per cent; Prohibitionist, 2 per cent.

RAMS TO ENJOY "GLASS MENAGERIE"

The Westmoor High School English department will further establish its interest in students' culture November 21.

Attending the Actor's Workshop production of "Glass Menagerie," juniors and seniors will be able to experience the beauty and passion of what its director, Jules Irving, terms "Williams' best play."

Previous to the viewing of this great American classic, students were drawn to the theater to see "The Twelfth Night," also an Actor's Workshop production.

Among the theater goers will be Bill Pope, Marilynn Wagner, Ken Lehre, Vicky Guz, Eugene Poggio, Jack Retranker, Chuck Suenderman, Gloria Moore and Marilyn Downey. With them will be Gloria Morrissey, Tony Thomas, Ann Irby, Mary Jane Putz, Tom Ottoman, Laurel Kimbrell and Pam Morgan.

Also enjoying Williams' play will be Cheryl Odin, Jerry Ward, Albert Parham, Mark Clark, Rinice Phillips, Pat Woodman, Sheila Stavish, Jamie Moses, Nick Freiberg, Cathy Lynch, Diana Stipelkovich, Denise Jamin and Vanda Gemignani.

With them will be Evelyn Goodell, Sherry Rosen, David Nelson, Randy Miller Boyd, Helena Frisell, Bruce Fergeson, Margaret Nigel, Carol Vanham, Charles Curtis, Robert Stein, Judy Fanfelle, Marilyn Derham, Sue Sherman, Susan Doelger, Kevin Burke, Deborah Pearl, June Hansen, Diane Hagerman, Jim Fotenos, Lynn Jones, Linda Long, Janice Williams, Carl Jacobsen and Sandra Randall.

Accompanying the students will be their instructors, Mrs. Doris Lindfors, who will bring her daughter Karen; Mrs. Lois McNabb, Miss Lorraine Stoddard and Mr. and Mrs. Robin Jackson.

Jeff Band Featured In Many Bay Area Parades

Jefferson High School band, in their blue and gold uniforms, have made many appearances throughout the Bay Area.

On October 6, they marched in the Linda Mar Western Day Celebration in Pacifica, led by five majorettes.

The band has also participated in high school band days at Stanford University and the University of California. On October 20, they were one of 42 bands that attended Stanford University. There were also 200 majorettes. On October 27, they attended, with 103 other bands, the University of California in Berkeley. At Cal there were 500 majorettes.

The band's next appearance will be on November 10 at Westlake Shopping Center for a Veterans' Day celebration.

The band will be in a parade from West Portal Tunnel to San Francisco State College on the morning of November 17. That same afternoon, they will be the featured band for the half-time show at S.F. State's homecoming game. This has become a traditional performance for the band.

The band has also been invited to play for the dedication of the new Oceana High School in Pacifica, November 18.

Students Elect

Under the auspices of the Student Council and advisor, Mrs. Alioto, Garden Village School students elected the following to serve for 1962-63:

Cathy Meade, president; Dan Proctor, vice president; Lisa Mendrano, treasurer; Charles Freiberg, secretary.

The election was conducted after a hearty campaign, including speeches, slogans, posters and a primary election for elimination. Cathy was re-elected, having served as president for 1961-62.

GOV. BROWN VISITS TERRA NOVA HIGH

Terra Nova High School was honored November 1 by a visit from the Governor of California, Edmund G. "Pat" Brown. He spoke to an assembly and addressed himself especially to the seniors on the importance of going to college.

Terra Nova is also jumping with joy because of our win over our arch-rival Oceana on November 2. Dr. Tonini, our principal, said that this rivalry could develop into one of the biggest ever if it was treated in the right way. Incidentally, the score was 28-0, which puts us into a tie with Westmoor for first place in the N.P. League.

Next week will be a very busy one here, as Tuesday starts our Spirit Week, which will be climaxed by our last game of the season with Westmoor in the afternoon and a dance, The Spirit Sparkle, to be given by the freshmen. The schedule for this week is: Tuesday, November 13, Crazy Day; Wednesday, Secretsville (who knows what it will be); Thursday, Dress-Up Day, and Friday, Color Day.

Primary Elections

The students of Abraham Lincoln Elementary School held primary elections for officers of the Student Council on Thursday, November 1. Two boys were chosen to compete for the presidency—Jim DeAlba and Douglas Kapovich. The secretary's position is being sought by Sally Fox and David Napoletano.

The choice for treasurer lies between Stephen Wahler and Eddie Jestadt. The student body will vote on Tuesday, November 6, with real voting booths and ballots. The electoral college has assigned three votes to the first and second grades, nine votes to the third grades and nineteen votes to each of the fourth and fifth grades.

Daly City History

As a fitting culmination of their social studies unit on the "History of Daly City," the third-grade class of Miss Jacqueline Long, Abraham Lincoln Elementary School, visited the San Mateo County Historical Museum on Thursday, October 25. The class of 32 children were accompanied by four class mothers: Mrs. Robert Loscutoff, Mrs. George Curtis, Mrs. Roger Zents and Mrs. John Foster.

Future Nurses' Club Plans Field Trips

Future pulse-takers and thermometer-readers were welcomed to the office of adviser Mrs. Phyllis Colbert for the first meeting of the Westmoor Future Nurses Club on Thursday, November 1.

Tentative plans for the newly-formed group include field trips to hospitals, health centers, and nursing schools. Annual dues of $1.50 will be used for entering Westmoor's chapter of the F. N. C. in the national organization. After the club's constitution is adopted, the group will continue to meet every first and third Monday.

THIS 1963 CADILLAC top-of-the-line Fleetwood Sixty Special sedan features a vinyl covered padded roof as an option. Also optional this year on this model are all leather interiors. The distinguishing characteristics of the Sixty Special are its stately roof design, stainless rocker moldings below the doors, a grille-type cove molding above the rear bumper and specially styled interiors with raised and contoured seat backs.

Volkswagen Has Sold More Than Million Cars In United States

The one millionth Volkswagen to become registered in the United States was put on the road sometime during the last two weeks of October, and followed closely the normally quiet introduction of the 1963 version of the country's most popular imported automobile.

"The significance of the one millionth registration is highlighted when it is pointed out that there were only two VW's sold in this country in 1949," said Howard Duvall, owner of Daly City Volkswagen.

"Since the inception of the VW and its introduction in this country, it has been the factory's policy to make changes in the Volkswagen only when it would improve the model, not simply to make it look different. This year, for instance, the only noticeable change, and a very minor one, is the lining in the interior roof. The roof lining is now an easier to maintain plastic rather than a soft cloth. There are other minor mechanical changes, to be sure, and there will continue to be. Not only at model change, but whenever the factory has perfected and tested an improvement," Duvall added.

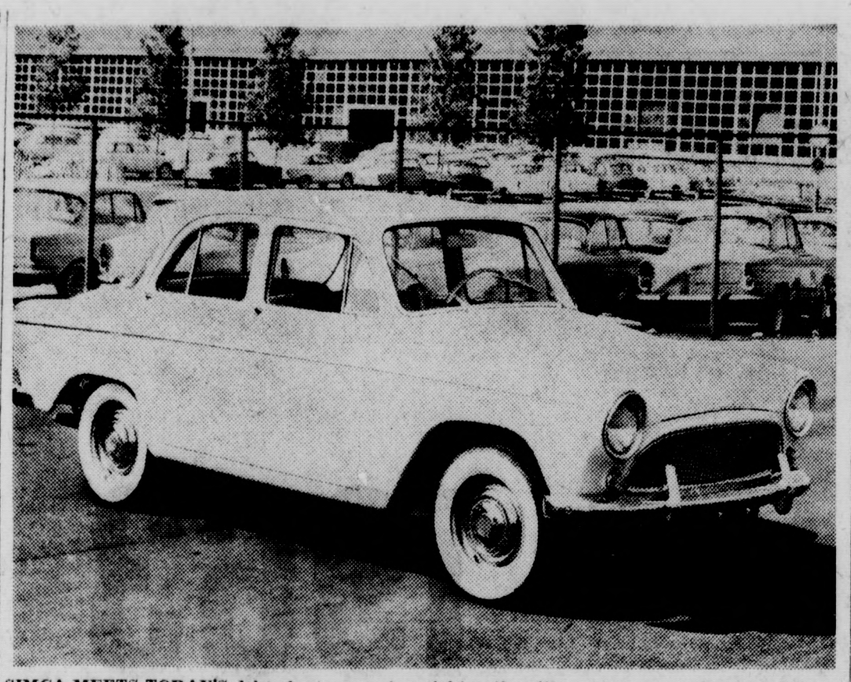
"There can be no question that Volkswagen is an integral part of the United States automotive picture. There will be more than 230,000 VWs sold in this country by the end of the year," Duvall declared. "Actually, almost one out of every two imported cars sold in this country is a VW," Duvall added.

While the VW sedan is the most familiar of the VW line on the road today, the VW station wagon and commercial units are finding increasing popularity. The station wagon is unlike any other standard station wagon. A square and admittedly boxlike unit, the VW station wagon easily carries nine adults and luggage, yet is only nine inches longer than the sedan itself.

The station wagon has an optional sunroof for youngsters to look out of, or for carrying large and unwieldy objects which will not fit in any standard station wagon. Christmas trees, ladders, etc., have been seen jauntily protruding through the top of the VW station wagon.

From the commercial portion of the VW production line comes a variety of units, the standard panel delivery truck, the Kombi, a station wagon which is convertible into a regular delivery truck; standard pickup and five-passenger or double cab pickup. These units are finding their way into almost every facit of United States small business from laundry delivery trucks to mobile employment agencies.

PICTURED above is Volkswagen's 1963 model now on display at Daly City Volkswagen, 6918 Mission street. No noticeable exterior changes have been made; only mechanical to better improve its performance.



SIMCA MEETS TODAY'S driving needs. Longer, heavier and more powerful than any of its import price class competitors, this 1963 Simca '5' four-door economy sedan also has the best power-to-weight ratio with the added push needed for passing under all highway traffic conditions. Its 65-hp engine with sports car style 5-main bearing crankshaft gives this car a commanding rated horsepower lead over all competitors. Its overall length is 164.9 inches and it seats a family of five comfortably.

NEW STYLING, PERFORMANCE FOR 1963 PLYMOUTH

New styling, exceptional performance and fuel economy — plus a 50,000 mile or five year warranty on major power train components — are making the 1963 Plymouth a strong entry in the low price field this year.

The new Plymouth models have a wider, longer look to go with their widely acclaimed liveliness.

They are three inches longer and an inch wider than in 1962. A stylish new roof line with upright rear window, a longer rear deck with roomier trunk and smart new front-end styling give the 1963 Plymouth a distinctively new appeal.

All 1963 Plymouth automobiles sold in the United States and Canada carry a new warranty for five years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, on major power train components. Plymouth is the first of the low-priced standard-sized cars to offer such extended owner protection.

Standard Sizes Only

The length of all 1963 Plymouth sedans, hardtops and convertibles is the same — 205 inches. There are no intermediate, in-between models, short wheelbase or small engine cars in the line.

Standard power plants are the 225-cubic-inch inclined six and the 318-cubic-inch Fury V-8. Both engines retain the economy features which have won for Plymouth victories in its class in the Mobil Economy Run the past six years in a row.

Cadillac Offers 49 Years Of Improvement In V-8 Engines

With the introduction of the 1963 cars, the V-8 engine begins its 49th year — and it is the most popular of all automobile engines.

The year was 1914 when Cadillac first offered a V-8 engine in an American production automobile. During the 1962 model year, 56.1 per cent of all domestic production featured the V-8.

Those V-8 engines of 1962 were vastly improved over that original Cadillac V-8, but they did bear a marked resemblance to another Cadillac engine, the 1949 high compression, overhead valve engine that established the industry-wide pattern for today's power plants.

Now, in 1963, Cadillac features a completely new version of that 1949 engine. C. F. Arnold, Cadillac chief engineer, calls his 1963 engine "the most significant V-8 engine development of 14 years. It offers greater durability, more efficiency and more quietness along with substantial weight reductions.

Appearing in all 12 Cadillac models, the 1963 engine is lower, narrower, shorter and lighter than the '62, while horsepower (325), displacement (390 cubic inches) and compression ratio (10.5 to 1) remain unchanged.

The crankcase is reduced in size and weight, and crankshaft is of pearlitic malleable iron. Main bearings are larger in diametr for greater rigidity. Pistons are shorter and lighter. All models this year are equipped with a newly designed valve for improved operation.

The result is a quieter, smoother engine offering the driver greater economy, longer engine life, improved carbure-

WHY COME TO AN AUTO SHOW TO SEE THIS CAR

When actually you can see the same car in our showroom at any time. (We've had the '63's on display for almost 2 months now.) There are several advantages:

1) You can compare the VW with cars of other shapes, sizes—and costs.
2) It's a relaxed atmosphere—sort of like a VW. You don't have to know a torsion bar from synchro mesh transmission—although the VW has both.
3) You can check over the changes made in past years—more than 3,000. We'll bet you'll have to ask what they are since we don't change VW's simply for change, only to make it work better.

Come to the Show this week and look closely at our VW's. You'll see why they are the most popular of all imported cars.

THIS IS A PONTIAC? This is a Pontiac Grand Prix. With a look all its own, and air of being able to cope with anything it might encounter, the new Grand Prix is grand touring in the best North American manner. Bucket seats are standard equipment on the Grand Prix, as are 2-speed electric wipers, a padded assist grip, lavish full carpeting, and a custom steering wheel. The tachometer is standard equipment with manual transmissions, vacuum gauge standard with automatic transmissions. A 4-speed floor-shift and Roto Hydra-Matic are also available at extra cost. A Grand Prix's 303-hp, 4-barrel Trophy V-8 engine of 389 cubic inches speaks pretty authoritatively. But don't let that stop you if you have it in mind to make an even louder statement. That's what our other engines* are for.

*Up to 370 hp at extra cost

Pontiac Sets New Standards For '63

Pontiac for '63 continues the reputation established in recent years for leadership in styling and innovation in the middle car field.

Again this year three lines are offered, from the luxurious Bonnevilles to the low priced Catalinas.

The Bonneville showcases Pontiac's attitude about bulding highly gratifying cars. You can pick one out four furlongs away. Getting closer, though, you get the full effect of its elegant interior that includes custom steering wheel and elegant dash panel. The Bonneville comes equipped with 389 cu. in. V-8 producing 303 h.p., but you can get them up to 370 h. p.

The Star Chiefs meet a middle demand and come in two models, the 4-door Vista hardtop and the 4-door sedan. Propulsion is supplied by the 283-h.p. Trophy V-8 and both have many extras as standard equipment.

Pontiac makes a point that they don't budge an inch on craftsmanship and quality of the low priced Catalinas. There is an economy-minded 215 h.p., 2-barrel, 389 cu. in. Trophy V-8 that burns regular gas, although you can get engines ranging up to 370 h.p. Again, most extras are standard equipment on the Catalina.

As for station wagons, Pontiac maes three finds—6 and 9 passenger Catalina Safaris and the 6-passenger Bonneville Safari.

SALES TESTING FIAT 1100

The Fiat 1100 four-door sedan from Italy is a substantial four-passenger vehicle contemporary in design, functional in scope, esthetically pleasing and efficient in performance.

This family sedan, at $1,498, is tight as a hand-built job. Even on cobblestone highways, the feeling of substantial rigidity remains.

Door handles are pushbutton type and doors open wide for easy access both front and rear.

Seating arrangements are comfortable, with plenty of leg room, and the front bucket seats can be adjusted. The seats are heavy foam padded, and covered with an easily cleaned vinyl. The doors, which are provided with arm rests, are also covered in vinyl, and an easily cleaned headlining is also provided.

Visibility is good in all directions, and the mirror is adjustable to prevent night-time glare.

Many Extras Provided

So many extras are provided with this vehicle at no extra cost that it is worthwhile to call them to the attention of any prospect.

The list includes reclining seats, spring-loaded exit handles over each door; reserve fuel warning light; lights under the hood; rubber-covered trunk deck; windshield washers; closed glove compartment; interior lights behind the mirror, as well as over each of the rear doors; parcel shelf behind the rear seat; ash trays in each of the rear doors and the center of the dash; padded visors; small running lights on each side of the car; wrap-around bumpers and grille guards; locking gas tank, and arm posts in the rear.

Another interesting feature is its large trunk space. The spare is out of the way under the trunk floor, and the tools are strapped to the rear wheel housing to prevent rattle.

Performance is just about what one would expect from a 55-horsepower engine. The four forward gears are synchromesh on the top three. Gearshift is standard H-pattern and is mounted on the steering column.

The Fiat 1100 accelerates rapidly enough to permit proper getaway, and bursts of speed for passing.

Easy to Handle

The vehicle has quick, sure steering and gets in and out of heavy city traffic with ease. Parking in tight places is a pleasure.

The car is sprung well, with a maximum amount of comfort available to passengers on all kinds of road surfaces, at all speeds and under just about every conceivable condition.

But one of the finest selling points available on the Fiat 1100 is the workmanship. The salesman should call attention to the way the body has been fitted, to the careful finish inside and the way the vehicle has been engineered to give maximum pleasure, through minimum upkeep. He should point out thoughtful touches such as the removable rubber matting and the engine compartment where lights have been provided for emergencies.

New Hardtops And Wagons Are Feature Of 1963 Ford Line

Two completely new hardtops and three new station wagons feature Ford's pace-setting middle-weight line of Fairlane cars for 1963.

Introduced in 1962 in sedan models only, Fairlane passed the quarter-million sales mark at the end of the model year, outselling 20 other makes of full-line domestic cars.

The two new hardtops capture the Thunderbird spirit with a lower profile, sleek thin roofline, rakish windshield and smartly styled over-all appearance. Newly-designed bucket seats, a full-length console and luxury car appointments combine to express a sporty feeling of fun on wheels.

The new Fairlane wagon line of three models includes the Fairlane Squire with simulated exterior wood paneling. Bucket seats will be available for the Squire Wagon as well as for the sports coupe.

Mr. Neville, owner of Neville Ford, Daly City, said that "in addition to new hardtops and station wagons for 1963, the Fairlane line features restyled two-and four-door sedans.

"Engineering advancements and modern production techniques have eliminated the need for the traditional 1,000-mile inspection and have increased major lubrication intervals to 36,000 miles," Zimmerman noted.

A complete range of economy and performance is offered by 21 different combinations of engines, transmissions and rear ends. The six-cylinder 170-cubic inch engine is available with standard or automatic transmission, the 221-inch V-8 is available with a three- or four-speed fully synchromeshed or two-speed automatic transmission and the 260-inch V-8 can also be obtained with a three-speed automatic transmission. Four separate differential ratios are available on all engines. Overdrive is also available with either V-8.

VOLVOS CAPTURE TWO TOP PRIZES AT LITTLE LE MANS

Volvo 122-S sedans took the two top places in the annual eight-hour Little LeMans endurance race at Lime Rock, Conn., for economy and compact cars.

Third place was taken by another Swedish car, Saab. This year represented the fourth win for Volvo, which also captured top spot in 1957, 1959 and 1961.

This year's winning team, Rune Svenson and Art Tattersall, established an average speed two miles per hour higher than last year's, covering 554 miles of the 1.5-mile road course at 69 miles per hour and setting the fastest lap of the day at 72 mph.

Other cars in the race included Panhard, NSU, RMW, Triumph, Austin-Cooper and Volkswagen. No American cars were entered.

Aside from Volvo, only two makes have ever won the race: An Abarth-Zagato and a Studebaker.

tion and reduced air pollution.

Serviceability is improved with the grouping of accessory items on the front. Water pump, oil pump and pressure regulator, fuel pump, distributor and oil filter support bracket are located together on the die cast aluminum front cover. Removed from around the engine to a single location these items are readily accessible and spark plugs are exposed for more efficient servicing.

The Cadillac Coupe de Ville and the Series 62 coupe for '63 present an entirely new appearance which is accomplished by a shortened roof line, a 38 per cent smaller rear window and a crisp formal design to the metal surrounding the rear window.

Be Sure To See All Of The Cars At The Westlake Auto Show

Completely re-styled for 1963 Ford's top-of-the-line Galaxie 500/XL convertible, shown above, offers luxury car features, such as bucket seats and console, a 260-cubic-inch Challenger V-8 engine, custom-designed interior appointments, and a console-mounted transmission lever. A padded, color-keyed boot covers the convertible top when it is lowered into the storage well, and special 500/XL emblems are mounted on the front fenders immediately behind the wheel openings. Through improved lubricants and special production procedures, Ford has been able to eliminate the historic 1,000-mile inspection on all of its 1963 Galaxies.

The 500/XL convertible is one of 14 Galaxie hardtop, convertible, station wagon and sedan models scheduled to go on display in dealers showrooms on Friday, September 28.

NEW YORKER is Chrysler's luxury car. The exclusive New Yorker series offers the ultimate in a luxury car. With its 413 cubic inch V-8 engine with single four-barrel carburetor, the 1963 Chrysler combines full-size elegance with outstanding performance. Luxury of the Chrysler is expressed in large doors and distinctive town car appeal of its roof and rear window design. Here is the New Yorker four-door hardtop.

Design Experts Hail Crisp New Stlying Of 1963 Chrysler Cars

An entirely new and crisp sculptured look of elegance distinguishes the 1963 Chrysler which goes on display at the Westlake Auto Show this week.

Along with this fashionable new look, much more is new in the 1963 Chrysler—new body structure, new brakes, new engine options, new economy features, new interiors and new, improved passenger roominess, safety and comfort.

"We have been told by architects and design authorities in many fields that the 1963 Chrysler embodies the best of contemporary design and is in many ways a leader in this area," C. E. Briggs, Chrysler Corporation vice president and general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, said.

"However, while we have made a distinctive appearance change in Chrysler we have retained the traditional big car appeal and engineering which has seen Chrysler register continuous sales gains over the past four years," Mr. Briggs said. In 1963 Chrysler maintains its policy of building only full-size cars.

Also new is a warranty for five years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, to cover the major power train components on all 1963 Chrysler automobiles sold in the United States and Canada. Chrysler is the first of the medium price cars to offer such extended owner protection.

Chrysler retains its model line-up which proved so successful in 1962. The Newport, a full-sized, lower priced car, will be offered as a 4-door sedan, 2 and 4-door hardtop, convertible coupe and 6 and 9-passenger station wagon. The 300 series, a popular entry in the growing performance sports car market, will be available in three body styles; 2 and 4-door hardtops and a convertible coupe. The New Yorker, built for the motorist who wants the ultimate in medium price car luxury, will have a 4-door sedan, a 4-door hardtop and 6 and 9-passenger station wagons. A Chrysler 300J will be introduced later in the year. In all, Chrysler offers 14 models in six body types.

Each of the three Chrysler models has its own individualized grille. The Newport features an aluminum stamping with vertical lattice work; the 300 has an impressive crossed bar design with the "300" medallion in the center; and the New Yorker is a die-cast frame with a vertical centerpiece from which aluminum insert bars extend on either side. Horizontally arranged headlamps replace the canted headlamps of the past three years.

NEW INTERIOR LOOK

Chrysler interiors are significantly new for 1963. There is a totally new instrument panel, new high-quality, appearance-improved seat materials and designs, and roomier interiors on two-door body models.

The simplicity of the new instrument panel styling complements the graceful exterior styling. Instruments have been grouped for maximum ease of reading by the driver. Two new features are introduced on the instrument panel for 1963—a trip odometer and passenger assist handle. Both are standard equipment.

Seat and door panel designs are new, and fabric colors and patterns are enhanced for 1963. The luxury of soft garnish is the feature of all door panels this year. Individually adjustable bucket seats with a fixed center section and folding arm rest are standard on 300 convertibles and two-door hardtops and on New Yorker station wagons. They are optional on four-door hardtops. The rear seat of the 300 has notch-back styling, and on all two-door models in all lines, the rear seat space has increased by 3.6 inches due to the relocation of the seat in this body style. There is also increased leg room in the front for the middle passenger due to the reduction in size of the center hump.

CHRYSLER OFFERS FOUR ENGINES

The powerplant for the Newport is the 361 cubic inch V-8 with two-barrel carburetor. The 300 has a 383 cubic inch V-8 with two-barrel carburetor. The New Yorker retains the 413 cubic inch V-8 with single four-barrel carburetor.

A new optional engine is being offered for the 300 sports series. It is a 413 cubic inch V-8 with a single four-barrel carburetor. It is designed for outstanding performance plus smooth and economical operation. The new powerplant provides more power at high speed and greater agility at low speeds. It has a high performance camshaft, special valve springs and dampers and large dual exhausts.

Olds Stresses Luxury, Comfort

Jack F. Wolfram is convinced that the new-car buyer is looking for glamour, and the Oldsmobile chief feels that his division's '63 models provide a full measure of that commodity.

Exteriors have been restyled, and interiors have been spruced up. Body panels and side trim are new; roofines and tail-lights have been altered, and there are separate grille designs for the 88, 98 and Starfire series.

Wolfram calls the Series 98 models the most-luxurious cars Oldsmobile ever has offered. In keeping with that idea, there's even a 98 model called the Luxury Sedan. It's a lavishly trimmed and appointed four-door hardtop that replaces a more sedate 1962 model.

Another newcomer to this series is the Custom Sports Coupe, a bucket-seat two-door hardtop that combines 98 styling with the 345-horsepower Starfire engine. A styling innovation for the Starfire hardtop is a concave rear window.

Other comfort and glamour touches include an adjustable steering wheel that is optional on models with power steering and an optional AM-FM radio. All radios are transistorized.

The transmission tunnel is smaller, brakes are self-adjusting, the instrument panel has recessed control knobs and a "Positive-Pilot" system warns the driver when a turn-signal bulb has burned out.

The rear-suspension geometry has been revised and body mountings have been redesigned. Oldsmobile says this results in quieter and smoother operation. The turning diameter has been reduced nearly three feet, making the car easier to maneuver.

The speedometer is driven off the left front wheel instead of through a gear in the transmission. Oldsmobile says the new system is quieter. A Delcotron alternator is standard equipment.

All models have a 394-cubic-inch V-8. Horsepower is 280 for the Dynamic 88 line, 330 for the Super 88 and 98, and 345 for the Starfire. Dynamic 88 models may be ordered with the 330-horsepower unit at extra cost, or with a regular-gas 260-horsepower version at no extra charge.

There are 18 standard-sized Oldsmobiles, one more than last year. The '63 lineup:

Dynamic 88 — Four-door sedan, four-door hardtop, two-door hardtop, convertible, four-door two-seat wagon and four-door three-seat wagon.

Super 88 — Four-door sedan, four-door hardtop, two-door hardtop and four-door two-seat wagon.

Series 98 — Four-door sedan, four-door hardtop, Luxury Sedan four-door hardtop, two-door hardtop, Custom Sports Coupe two-door hardtop (bucket-seats) and convertible.

Starfire — Two-door hardtop and convertible. (Both have bucket seats.)

Features Of The 1963 Porsche

The familiar and classic lines of the 1963 Porsche are those which have graced its predecessors for many years. The famed factory in Stuttgart, West Germany, prides itself on its engineering achievements and once a design has proved itself few changes are made—and then, like the Volkswagen—not to make it look different, only to make it work better. The compact low center of gravity is set upon an 82.7 inch wheelbase giving the Porsche its legendary and exceptional roadability and ease of handling at any speed.

The Porsche engine is the masterpiece of Dr. Ferdinand Porsche's engineering genius. Every part is individually fitted and tested for critical tolerances by hand. Both the exterior paint and custom crafted interior are evidence of the handwork for which the car is world famous. Two of the oldest and foremost body manufacturers in Europe, Karmann and Reutter, fabricate the Porsche body.

The Porsche is available in two body designs, a "fast back" coupe and the soft top convertible, known as the Cabriolet. The 1600 cc Porsche power plant is available in three versions able to satisfy the needs of any driver. The "normal," rating 70 HP; the "Super" at 88 HP; and the "Super 90" with 102 HP.

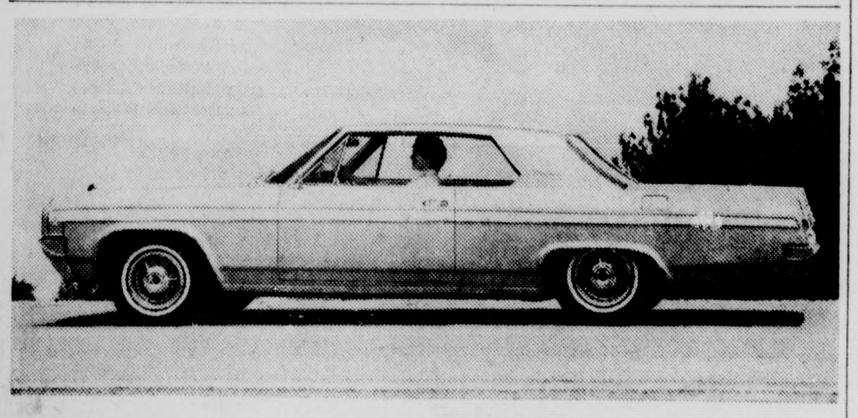
Valiant Adds Convertible

Valiant, the low priced compact of Chrysler Corporation, has completely new styling for 1963.

It is 2.2 inches longer and is sleeker in appearance than previous models. For the first time this year Valiant offers a convertible with either a power or manually operated top.

"The 1963 Valiant re-emphasizes its reputation as the value leader in the low-price compact field," says C. E. Briggs, vice president of Chrysler Motors Corporation and general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth division. "We are convinced that the 1963 Valiant is the best all-around compact anybody has come up with yet," he declared.

Valiant for 1963 has a new warranty for five years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the major power train components, including engine, transmission, propeller shaft and universal joint and rear axle. This makes Valiant first in the compact car class to offer such extended owner protection.



1963 OLDSMOBILE Starfire Coupe. This is the 1963 Starfire, Oldsmobile's full-size sports car. With its crisp, youthful styling theme, fresh new roofline and concave rear window, the Starfire is further identified by the tailored aluminum band along the sides. It has its own grille. Bucket seats, center console, Hydra-Matic transmission, power brakes and power steering are standard equipment. Produced in both coupe and convertible models, the Starfire is powered by Oldsmobile's ultra-high compression 345 horsepower Starfire engine equipped with dual exhausts.

In the face of what has been called weak National Direction in regards to U. S. civil defense and disaster preparedness, it would do well to point out that San Mateo County has one of the best civil defense systems in this area.

The county program is forging ahead under the watchful eye of Dallas Radcliffe, deputy civil defense coordinator and retired air force captain.

The former Mare Island Shipyards disaster control officer said the county has cities which are both weakly and strongly prepared—and the county will render aid to both weak and strong in the event of a disaster.

Radcliffe is coordinating the 17 incorporated districts, compiling manpower and equipment lists and gathering data on special districts such as sewer, sanitary and school districts. More buildings will be added to a list of fallout shelters.

Net results of these efforts will be that if this county is hit by a disaster, large or small, such as the recent flood in Linda Mar, the county will be ready to lend assistance.

The View From .. Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

God and the soldier
all men adore.
In time of trouble
and no more.
For when war is over and all things righted
God is neglected
The old soldier slighted.
(Inscription carved in stone sentry box on Gibraltar).

The old soldier herein referred to is called Civil Defense. He is put on the shelf, it seems, until the next war scare. Then he is brought out, dusted off, and expected to march again.

The trouble is that the old soldier cannot march and perform unless he has continued training, been fed and uniformed, and equipped, and drilled in the interim between war scares.

It is just not a good time to commence worrying and planning and training, when the guns are about to shoot. Plans should have been formulated, and training implemented before the current crises.

The Police Department has emergency plans. The plans include emergency arrangements to be used in case of natural or manmade disaster or impending disaster.

Such plans include the calling in of Reserve Police and the ultimate end of dispersing all personnel to decentralized posts throughout the city. From the posts, neighborhoods will be patrolled, traffic will be directed, and citizens with problems will be received.

The emergency plans of the Police Department are simply to extend coverage in an unsettled atmosphere so that basic duties may be carried out. Basic duties are, simply, to protect life and property and to preserve the peace.

Protecting life and property, simply, means to protect the people from themselves at times when fear prevails and the normal civic climate is unsettled.

Although evacuation is not the order of the day when nuclear attack threatens, probably southbound traffic will increase. In effect, then, so that rioting and traffic congestion will not result, the police will assist any "informal" evacuation. However, such evacuation is NOT encouraged. Persons planning to evacuate might do well to observe rush hour traffic; we predict that they will have a change of mind.

Citizens should make their personal plans, while observing accepted Civil Defense advice. We will help you as always—but you have to remember:

(1) We can't stop a missile from striking you; that is someone else's job;
(2) We can't dig you a bomb shelter; that, too, is someone else's job, and so far as we know there are no shelters in this area.

What we CAN do, and what we WILL do, is our job as best we know how. We think it is pretty good most of the time; we hope that you agree.

That job is exactly the same in times of peace, war, or natural disaster. In time of emergency, the job becomes simpler in scope but more intense in application. In those times, barking dogs will have to bark, and family fights, except for the very serious, will have to solve themselves. The police tasks will be simpler, but there will probably be more of them.

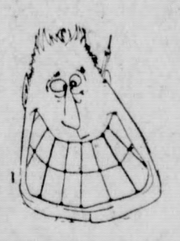
With regard to things outside of the scope of the police, it is suggested that the citizen contact those responsible. A list of names can be gathered from any newspaper that was published in the early days of the present Cuban crises, showing CD officials and other interested parties.

Many people were climbing aboard the civil defense bandwagon at that time. Ask them what they have accomplished, now that, as the papers said, the need for more stringent civil defense measures has been recognized. No doubt those righteously indignant good citizens have accomplished somehting.

The police do not have the entire overall civil defense responsibility. Other people do. The crisis is somewhat diminished at present. If you feel that plans need to be made, see that they are made now.

We hope that the time doesn't come. But it may come. If it does come, it is too late to prepare. Keep the old soldier of Civil Defense in training now if you expect him to march at that time.

The Police are prepared to help the citizen; is the citizen prepared to help himself?



top of the hill

By ARTEMUS BIERCE

Now that the elections are over, everybody can get back to the task of watching the 49ers lose or playing expert on the Cuban situation.

Unfortunately we are still scraping the political mud off of our office wall and won't be able to imbibe in these activities for a few days. The campaign for Governor this year, though exciting, was one of the bitterest conducted in recent years.

Though the gubernatorial campaign was quite pock-marked, many of the other races for lesser offices were conducted quite clean.

One surprised visitor in our office last Wednesday, the day following the elections, was Andrew Byrd, the unsuccessful Republican candidate for Assemblyman of the 27th district.

Byrd, though the disappointment was evident, dropped into our office to convey his thanks to the press and have us impart his gratitude to the public. A very sincere chap, Byrd was almost elated in that San Mateo County had such a huge turn-out at the polls.

Byrd also praised his opponent Leo Ryan, which is the usual procedure on the part of the loser. However, he noted that both Ryan and he had conducted a flawlessly clean campaign. Ryan, the South San Francisco Mayor and Capuchino school teacher, almost beat Louis Francis in 1958 and his election came as no surprise in the highly Democratic North San Mateo county.

Despite the confident outlook for Ryan at the start of the campaign, Byrd gave it the old college try. Byrd lost the election by some 20,000 votes but it could have been even closer had he not endorsed Proposition 24.

His campaign managers had advised him not to support the controversial Francis Amendment, which was criticized by many candidates and most of the newspapers.

But Byrd stood by his convictions and gave a definite stand on the issue, a favored stand and a stand which sent him into temporary political oblivion.

However, we respect Andrew Byrd for standing by his own conscience and for presenting a rational argument in favor of it. And we respect Mr. Byrd and Mr. Ryan for running a clean campaign.

And you can look for the name Andrew Byrd to appear on the ballot again someday in the future. And though we may still disagree with him, we know that he is a man in possession of integrity and honesty.

It is always nice to know that you have a capable man on each side of the fence.

town talk

By JACK WOOD

LOVE'S LABOR LOST—Daly City Police sergeant Matt Murray has one to tell about an estranged husband. The man, a Daly City resident, decided to visit his estranged wife one night while under the influence. There was a restraining order against his visiting her, but love's message was stronger, and he ventured to her door, and tried to get in.

Finding the door locked, he pounded and pounded. Meanwhile, his wife, thinking a burglar was trying to break in, grabbed a poker from the fireplace and waited just inside the door.

The determined husband broke in the door and as he stepped inside was clipped neatly along the side of his head and knocked cold by his wife. Rather cold reception. What?

SMOGVILLE—The theory of Don Martin, a local newspaperman that Daly City is SMOGville, U. S. A. might be true. . . But I know where the smog belt really is. Yes I do. It's in the parking lot at the Cow Palace. That's where it is.

I parked my car there t'other night while watching the San Francisco ice hockey heroes down the Edmonton Flyers 6-1. Upon returning, the windshield was covered with a coating of mist, which isn't really unusual, but when I turned on the windshield wipers, I noticed that much, much natural dirt and goo had deposited from the air onto the windshield also.

Can Daly City pass the windshield test?

Do we have cleaner or dirtier windshields than other cities, or is Bayshore City leading the pack?

Perhaps it is as Martin indicates that the smog goes as the wind goes.

Martin adds that "Smog generally forms in the southern reaches of the Bay Area and moves northward."

That means we are getting it all the time, while residents south of us, the ones who are creating the smog, are going scott free.

Now, on the subject of SMUDGEPOT AUTOS, I wish to add that, although my car burns OIL occasionally, it still does not equal a muni-bus, or a Greyhound bus in smoke output. Or a tar roofing firm.

Mayor George Mason of Pacifica, who is an advocate of seat belts, is not plugging them with earnest, earnest.

He had an auto accident in Los Angeles and believes that the seat belt he was wearing prevented his suffering more extensive injuries.

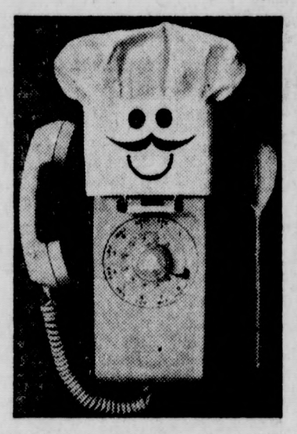
WHAT'S DOING

T. P. Coyne, your Telephone Manager in Daly City

A cook's best friend is her kitchen telephone. That's the word we've heard from many a housewife here in town. And it makes a lot of sense. If the kitchen's the place she spends most of her time, then that's the most convenient place for her to make and take calls.



Many women like a wall phone for their kitchen extension; it hangs up handily, keeps work surfaces clear. Or you might prefer a regular desk set or the smaller Princess. Whichever you choose, you'll be delighted with a colorful kitchen telephone.

These are two "voiceprints" —picture patterns, made by a special machine, of two different people saying the word, "you." It's a new idea that holds a lot of promise in the field of identification.

Bell Telephone Laboratories scientists have found that voiceprints, like fingerprints, are so distinctly individual that experts can recognize one from millions of others. Even if the speakers yell, whisper, try an accent or fill their mouths with marbles, the patterns remain essentially the same.

Seems like there's no end of ideas in communications research—from making a picture of your voice to sending pictures around the world by satellite.

* * * * *

"The Good Old Days." When someone says that, he's usually referring to the good old prices—the free lunch, penny candy, nickel cigars, shave-and-a-haircut six bits. You might think you'd have to go a long way to find anything that costs less today than it did in the good old days.

Yet back in 1915 a coast-to-coast phone call cost over $20.00. Today the same call costs just $2.25. So why not enjoy long distance telephone visits more often? Now would be a good time to start.

Bishop's Annual Thanksgiving Clothing Collection Begins

The 14th annual Catholic Bishop's Thanksgiving Clothing Collection will begin Sunday, November 18. For one week—until Sunday, November 25—all Catholic Churches will receive donations of usable clothing, shoes and bedding.

This collection, traditionally at Thanksgiving time, is the nation-wide appeal for the homeless and ill-clothed in other lands. Catholic Relief Services—the overseas aid agency of the Bishops—maintains relief and welfare programs under American supervision in areas of distress in 67 countries of the globe.

Every article donated is promptly sent overseas to those countries and areas where it is most needed. Distribution is made without regard to race, color or creed. The sole criterion is need.

Father Timothy E. O'Brien, Assistant Director of Catholic Charities and Archdiocesan Director of the Collection stressed that the greatest need is for men's clothing, children's clothing—particularly infant garments—, bolt goods, remnants, sewing material, blankets, quilts and coverlets.

Beginning on Nov. 18 donations can be brought to any Catholic church. The Society of St. Vincent de Paul, through its San Francisco Headquarters, is then responsible for sorting and shipping donations from a dozen Western States.

Last year the counties of San Francisco, Marin, San Mateo and Santa Clara gave over 300,000 pounds of goods.

Special Services At Our Redeemer's

Joining with the proclamation of the President of the United States and together with fellow Americans, Our Redeemer's Church will hold a festival worship of thanks and praise on Thanksgiving Day, November 22, at 10 a.m.

Pastor Tweet has chosen to speak on the sermon theme, "A Real Thanksgiving." "Every day could be made much lighter and happier if one would approach it in the spirit of thankfulness," says Tweet.

"On the other hand, much expression of appreciation and thankfulness is only a quick word and appears to be of 'lip service,'" he continued.

The adult choir and the carol choir will provide special music.

'Give Wisely' Sermon At Our Redeemer's

The Reverend Irvin Tweet, pastor of Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church, South San Francisco, will speak on "Learning to Give Wisely" at the 9:45 and 11 a.m. worship services, Sunday, November 18.

The young people will be taking part in the service along with the advisors, Fran and Bill Bjerkquist. Nancy Cabral and Bill Hucke also have reading parts. The youth will sing one hymn.

Each of the seminary students will be asked to share their own Christian experiences, and their calling into the service of Christ. The group will sing several songs. Larry Trettin is the baritone, but he remarks that three of the group were originaly first tenors, and one a second tenor. The church is at 3355 - 19th avenue, Stonestown.

Christmas Bazaar Set For November 28 in Golden Gate Park

The Salvation Army's annual Christmas bazaar, one of the year's most colorful charity events, will be held this year at the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park on Wednesday, November 28.

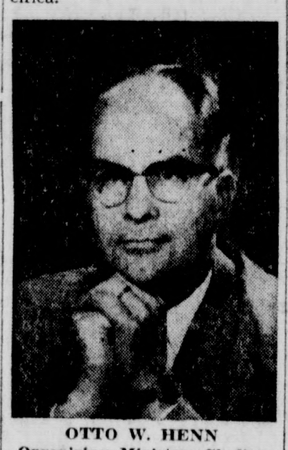
The bazaar is an all-day affair, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., with many booths offering a wide variety of items—all new. In addition, special emphasis will be placed this year on the booths selling Christmas decorations, candy and gourmet foodstuffs, as well as homemade aprons, needlework, etc.

Luncheon will be served, and the traditional Silver Tea will again be held during the afternoon, according to Mrs. Gifford, coordinator of the bazaar for the Salvation Army.

Hayward, located in Alameda County, is reported by the National Automobile Club to have been named after William Hayward, an early pioneer who opened a hotel there in 1852.

Presbyterian Church Planned

The Presbytery of San Francisco of the United Presbyterian Church of the United States of America, in cooperation with the Northern California-Nevada Council of Churches, through the latter's body department of comity, has taken action to establish a Presbyterian church in the Skyline area of southwest Daly City and northern Pacifica.



OTTO W. HENN
Organizing Minister, Skyline Parish, United Presbyterian Church, Daly City-Pacifica

The Presbytery was moved to take this significant step on the basis of careful surveys of the area by the department of new church development of the North Coastal Area of the Synod of California, taking into consideration existing state population projections.

Present plans call for a thorough religious census of the parish, which is roughly defined as the area bounded on the east by Junipero Serra boulevard, and on the north by Westmoor and Eastmoor avenues. As more detailed information concerning the parish becomes available through this census, initial activities will be planned, looking toward the organization of a congregation and the acquisition of a building site for the new church.

The Presbytery has charged the Rev. Otto W. Henn with the responsibility of developing and organizing the new church. He and his family arrived in the Bay area the latter part of September after a ten-year pastorate in north-cental Montana, where Mr. Henn also served the Presbytery as chairman of its committee on National Missions. This body carries the responsibility for new church development, providing experience which will serve the new pastor well in his present activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Hess were born and educated in Heidelberg, Germany, from where they came to the United States in 1938 under pressure from Nazi ideology.

In 1944 they obtained U. S. citizenship through naturalization. They have two sons, Werner, 23, presently serving with the Marine Corps, and Ralph, 17, a senior at Westmoor High School.

The Henns reside at 20 Westline drive in Daly City, and the phone number is WY 2-0644.

A Cohn To Celebrate Bar Mitzvah

Abbey Cohn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cohn, of Westlake, will celebrate his Bar Mitzvah at 8:30 p.m. at Temple Judea's Sabbath Evening Services, to be held at the House of Lawton, 1925 Lawton street in San Francisco.

Rabbi Herbert Morris and Cantor Harold Wachter will officiate.

There will be an Oneg Shabbat, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Cohn, after the services, and all are invited to attend.

New Families Join DC's Temple Judea

Temple Judea, 95 South Mayfair avenue, Daly City, is pleased to announce the names of the following families who have become members of the congregation:

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Benard, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bogel, Mr. Irving Benveniste, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Goldman, Mrs. Samuel E. Goldman, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Heisler, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Safine, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kemlar, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Levey, Mr. and Mrs. Max Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Mueller and Mr. and Mrs. Cy Prenovitz.

Membership in Congregation Judea includes High Holy Day seats, Religious School and preparation for Bar and Bas Mitzvah, and features an active sisterhood, brotherhood, youth group and single adult group.

For further information, telephone the Temple office, PL-5-6362, or drop by the Temple at 95 South Mayfair, in Daly City.

Yiddish Group To Hear Vocalist

Nancy Churchill Smith, noted San Francisco soprano, will be the featured soloist when the Yiddish Culture Group of the Peninsula Jewish Community Center meets at 8 p.m. Saturday, November 17, in the auditorium of the Hayward Park School, 15th avenue and El Camino Real.

Mrs. Smith, who has appeared on the group's programs many times in the past, will sing Yiddish, classical and operatic selections. She will be accompanied at the piano by Lucille Thomas.

St. Martins Church To Hold Bazaar

The public is invited to a bazaar at St. Martin's Episcopal Church, 777 Southgate avenue, November 17, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The various booths will feature plants, stuffed animals and dolls, needlework, Christmas candles and decorations, candy and 'white elephants.'

Pizza, hot dogs and soft drinks will be served all day. There will be games with prizes for children.

The bazaar is sponsored by St. Mary's Guild, with the assistance of other women of St. Martin's congregation. Proceeds will be used for support of the Sunday School and nursery.

Gospel Concert At SJ Auditorium

On Saturday evening, November 17, Gospel music will again be presented in concert at the San Jose Civic Auditorium. Headlining the "Gospel Music Spectacular" will be the world-famous Oak Ridge Quartet from Nashville, Tennessee, and the sensational Weatherford Quartet from Akron, Ohio.

These two popular spiritual quartets are among the nation's greatest, both groups having a number of daily television and radio programs throughout the South and Midwest. Earlier this year these quartets made their initial West Coast tour, performing before near-capacity crowds in many of California's largest auditoriums. However, this appearance will be their first in the San Jose area.

All sorts of holiday decorations will be available—table centerpieces, tree ornaments, mantle decorations, wreaths and many other novelties.

The Christmas decorations sale, like other events throughout the year, raises funds for the annual Our Lady of Mercy Festival to be held on May 2, 3, 4 and 5, 1963. The theme announced for next year's spring festival is "Showboat Time."

Mother Theodore, O.S.U., the moderator, will speak on "The Role of Discipline in the Education of Our Girls." Questions from the floor will follow.

The executive board will meet at 7 p.m., prior to the Guild meeting.

Religion, Communism Interfaith Lectures

A special Thanksgiving Day service, traditional in Christian Science churches all over the world, will be held in this area by Ninth Church of Christ, Scientist, 175 Junipero Serra Blvd., at 11 a.m. Everyone is welcome and no collections will be taken.

Hymns, prayer, and a specially prepared Bible lesson-sermon are all a part of the service, with a period set aside for spontaneous expressions of gratitude by church members in the congregation.

Included in the responsive reading will be these Bible verses from I Chronicles: "Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praise thy glorious name . . . O Lord our God, all this store that we have prepared to build thee an house for thine holy name cometh of thine hand, and is all thine own."

From Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy will be read: "If we feel the aspiration, humility, gratitude, and love which our words express . . . this God accepts . . ." (p. 8).

Thanksgiving Proclamations by the President will be read as part of the service by the First Reader.

Hebrew-Christian Speaker At Westlake Baptist Church

The Rev. Mike Friedman, Hebrew Christian, is speaking at all the services of the Westlake Community Baptist church Sunday, Nov. 18. The church is located at the corner of Southgate and Elmwood Avenues in Westlake, Daly City.

Rev. Oscar Michael Friedman was raised in Brooklyn, New York, in an orthodox Jewish home. He attended Eynagogue and Hebrew school regularly and was Bar Mitzvahed at the age of thirteen. As a high school student he was president of his high school orchestra for two years, dramatic coach, president of his skating club, played varsity baseball and found the time to do amateur shows in many stage productions.

In 1938 he won the Hal Roach Stage and Screen Award to participate in the finals in order to come out to Hollywood for a screen test. During the war years, Rev. Mr. Friedman enlisted as a private but slowly climbed the ranks and is now a Major in the U. S. Army Reserves.

After he was separated from the service, he went into the wholesale electrical business in Santa Barbara and had been doing this work for eleven years when he was led to give up his business and go back to school at the age of thirty-eight to study for the ministry. He has attended California Baptist Theological Seminary in Covina, Talbot Theological Seminary in La Mirada, and is now attending Berkeley Baptist Divinity School.

Rev. Friedman will speak at the 11 a.m. service, the combined BYF groups at 6 p.m. and also in the 7 p.m. service at which time he will give his life story. All members and friends are cordially invited to attend and hear this inspiring message.

Son's Movie Hobby Affects Entire Family

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kearns did not realize that the son Martin's hobbies of theater, art, music and drama would one day combine into a single hobby that affected their entire home.

People make reservations months in advance to view this 20-year-old youth's silent movie collection, thus the Buri Buri Woman's Club has asked Martin to bring a few of his collection to show as the program of the meeting at 8 p. m. tomorrow at the Buri Buri Community Methodist Church.

Demands to view the old movies became so numerous the Kearns, once a month, move out their living and dining room furniture to make room for the viewers.

Also, the films are so costly, Martin is temporarily out of school and is working in a newspaper office.

Mrs. Alastair Finlayson, club president, has made the following new appointments: Mrs. Howard Hinman and Mrs. Clarence Baillie, June luncheon chairmen; Mrs. Raymond Baumback, editor and publications.

The Christmas luncheon committee will sell tickets for the annual affair at this meeting.

The meetings hostess committee is: Mrs. Claiborne Blalock, chairman; Mrs. Lloyd Erion, Mrs. Albert Jones, Mrs. Donald Morgan and Mrs. Margaret Purcell.

Some straight talk about food costs to every woman who wants to feed her family better for less

This is not the kind of supermarket ad you're used to, because this is a different kind of supermarket.

Everybody wants to buy favorite food items for less money. So for years food stores have advertised flashy weekend "Specials" below cost, to lure you in. The catch is that these losses are offset by higher everyday prices on all other items in the store.

You won't find these "loss leaders" at the exciting new ALEC Supermarket. Instead, you'll find uniformly lower everyday prices on everything on your shopping list. About 10% less than anywhere else we know of, in fact.

This means, for example, that a typical weekly cart of food that costs you about $34.25 elsewhere, costs only $30.82 at ALEC. And not just on weekends—any day you prefer to shop. (Matter of fact, our exclusive ALEC Bonus Premium Plan gives you even greater savings on Mondays and Tuesdays, when we're not so crowded. Better than savings stamps, without all the bother of collecting them. Be sure to ask for details about this plan when you come in.)

What about quality? The ALEC Supermarket now offers only the finest personally-selected USDA CHOICE meats, including well-trimmed steer beef, guaranteed good or your money back without question. Our fine fruits and vegetables are guaranteed fresh and flavorful, too.

And throughout our big, bright cheery Supermarket you'll find your favorite national brands, all clearly priced so you can quickly see how much less you can buy them for at ALEC. See for yourself.

Makes sense, doesn't it? So start feeding your family better for less today. When you see how much you can save on all your living needs in our 35 other departments, you'll want to have fun visiting ALEC Membership* Shopping Center at least once a week.

*ALEC membership costs just $2, which you may easily save on your very first visit. And every week you'll receive our Members' Newsletter with advance information on special events and bargains throughout the store.

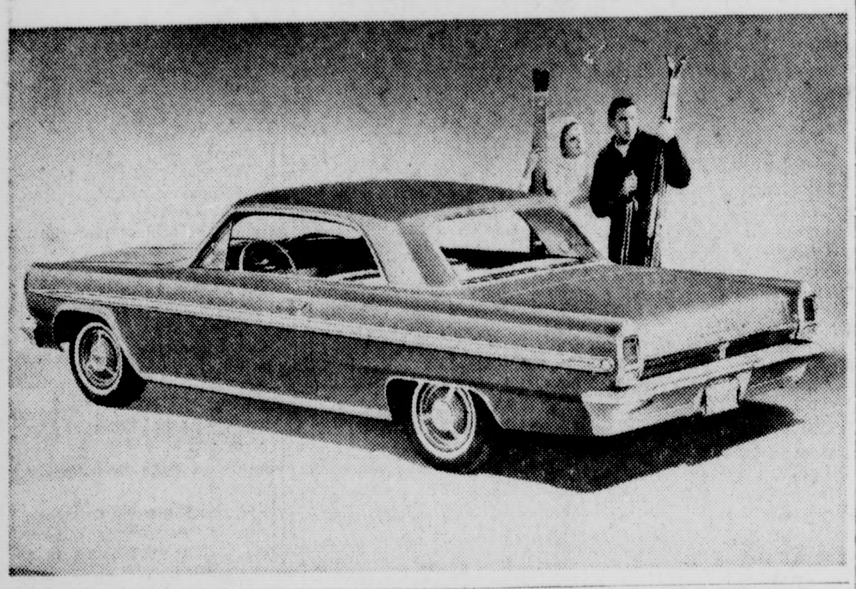
1963 OLDS JETFIRE



'Road' in Lab Tests Dodges

A machine used to test the '63 Dodge Dart duplicates road testing in the laboratory but does it faster than on the road.

Forces applied through the rear axle of the car reproduce the effects of actual driving. In 90 hours, this equipment subjects the structure of the car to the same stress and fatigue it would receive in 50,000 miles of road testing.

The propeller shaft of the '63 Cadillac is another industry "first." The double constant velocity joints at the center and rear and the universal joint at the front give the unit smoothness and insensitivity to load or road. Durability is twice that of any known design.

1963 Falcon

A new addition to the Falcon line for 1963 is the four-door Futura sedan, which sports a deluxe interior and exterior. Shown to good advantage is the new Thunderbird-type roof that is standard on all Falcon sedans for 1963.

The new roof, and all-around styling refinements, give the Ford compact a lower, speedier look. Exterior ornamentation below the roofline matches that of other Futura models (convertibles and two-door sedans) in all respects — bright-metal moldings, unique wheel covers, and distinctive Futura identification.

The 1963 Dodge Dart's glove compartment door has cup stands on the inner surface.

1963 Ford Trucks

Key vehicles in Ford's 1963 fleet of light trucks are the new Ford F-100 one-half ton pickup and the Econoline Van.

A feature of the two popular units is a new fully-synchronized three-speed transmission, designed to provide long transmission life and permit the driver to shift into low without gear clash.

The F-100 is available in three body styles: Styleside, with integral cab-and-box construction; and optional Flareside box with wooden floor.

The Econoline Van — the industry's top-selling economy-size truck, which features increased roof support and durability for transporting equipment on roof top carriers—provides more loadspace than most conventional half-ton panel trucks.

Like all Ford conventional trucks, the F-100 and the Econoline have engines equipped with a positive crankcase emission system which reduces exhaust fumes.

Cadillac's 1963 engineering accomplishments include a new engine that is more durable, lighter, more efficient and uses the latest in metals for lightness and strength.

1963 FORD GALAXIE

Described as "the most service-free standard size American car ever offered," the 1963 Ford Galaxie features completely new styling, a new high economy V8 engine, new 36,000-mile major lubrication interval and a new, $10-million soft-riding "compliance-link" suspension.

"The 1963 Galaxie represents an all-out effort by our stylists, engineers and product planners to capture an even greater share of the volume standard-size market," said E. F. Laux, Ford Division general marketing manager.

Galaxie is currently accounting for 46 per cent of Ford Division sales as a separate line, Mr. Laux said, with the sleek "500 XL" series taking one out of every eight Galaxie sales.

"This consumer trend to sporty and luxurious car keynotes both the styling and the many comfort and convenience features offered in all 1963 Galaxies," Mr. Laux explained.

Those features include an optional Thunderbird-type swing-away steering column for convenience of entry. Vent windows are crank operated, seat cushions feature three inches of foam rubber, interior door handles are luxurious paddle-type and a new AM-FM radio is optional.

An all-new, three-speed manual shift, syncromesh transmission is standard on all 1963 Galaxie models. The new transmission, first of its type ever offered on U.S.-built passenger cars, is synchronized in all forward gears to minimize hard shifting, gear clash and tooth wear.

The 260 cubic inch Challenger engine is designed to operate on regular fuel, offering good performance and high fuel economy. Custom performance is available in 35 different levels through various combinations of 6 engines, 5 transmissions and 9 rear axle ratios. Two-, four- and six-barrel carburetion for selected blends of performance and economy are offered on several of the engines.

The complete line of 14 new Galaxies was introduced in Ford dealer showrooms on Friday, September 28, Mr. Laux said.

A new four-door hardtop model in the Galaxie "500 XL" series heads the list of 14 new Galaxies in three series for 1963. The Galaxie series includes two- and four-door sedans; the Galaxie 500 series includes two- and four-door sedans, two- and four-door hardtops, and a two-door convertible. The sporty Galaxie "500 XL" series now includes a two-door convertible and two-and four-door hardtop models.

Ford's station wagons feature four models for 1963 including four-door, six- and nine-passenger Country Sedans and Country Squires, Mr. Laux said.

STYLING

A sharply delineated contour—running from the outboard edge of the headlamps to the massive, circular taillights—dramatizes the lithe and luxurious character of all new Galaxies. Lower on the body side is another sculptured line, artfully integrated to accent the wheels and the feeling of dynamic motion embodied in the Galaxie for 1963.

This appearance of movement is emphasized in the recessed Thunderbird-style roof with its landau rear pillar, recessed rear window and forward-thrusting lines. The concave Galaxie grille is a contemporary pattern of bars and rectangles with the Ford crest in full color "floating" modernistically in the center.

1963 Chrysler Features Many Improvements

Many new improvements have been added to the 1963 Chrysler. Here are listed four of the major new features:

A number of improvements have been made in the 1963 Chrysler to further protect against corrosion. Higher grade stainless steels are used for moldings, hub caps and other parts. The addition of splash shields in under fender areas prevents accumulation of corrosion materials in pocket areas. Bodies are dipped deeper for 1963.

Corrosion resistance measures are also applied to the chasis. They include protection of engine mountings, exhausts pipes, suspension parts and other parts under the hood. Some components are zinc-plated or cadmium-plated for additional protection.

A parking sprag control is introduced for all models equipped with automatic transmission. It provides a positive and convenient method of holding the car immovable when parked. The parking sprag is operated by a slide lever mounted on the instrument panel.

1963 Chrysler Newport and 300 models have longer (60 inches) rear springs which have six leaves in place of five-and-a-half. The new springs improve ride quality by reducing harshness. They also extend spring life. New Yorker models retain the seven-leaf springs.

Servo-Contact, self-energizing brakes are used in Chrysler models for 1963. In addition to the inherent advantages of low pedal effort, good pedal reserve, stability and quietness in operation, the new brakes offer improved cooling, higher fade resistance, and more effective sealing. Bonded linings are used for maximum lining life and effectiveness.

A new addition to the Falcon line for 1963 is this four-door Futura sedan, which sports a deluxe interior and exterior. Shown to good advantage in this picture is the new Thunderbird-type roof that is standard on all Falcon sedans for 1963. The new roof, and all-around styling refinements, give the Ford compact a lower, speedier look. Exterior ornamentation below the roofline matches that of other Futura models (convertibles and two-door sedans) in all respects—bright-metal moldings, unique wheel covers, and distinctive Futura identification.

HEATER BLENDS AIR IN '63 DART

The heating system on the compact 1963 Dodge Dart provides custom-blending of hot and cold air.

The system achieves the desired temperatures by varying the percentage of air flowing through the heating core.

This mixing of hot and cold air allows more precise control of temperatures and provides instant response to adjustments of the control lever.

For 1963, Cadillac is offering 12 models in its product line. Of these, 11 are one inch longer than in 1962. Nine of these are 223 inches in over-all length. The two Series 75 models are 243.3 inches while the Park Avenue remains at 215 inches.

HEART SUNDAY CO-CHAIRMEN FOR COUNTY ARE NAMED

Heart Sunday co-chairmen for the four areas comprising San Mateo County have just been announced by Mrs. Richard E. Shipley of Millbrae, 1963 Heart Sunday chairman.

In the North County, Mrs. J. B. Weiner, Jr., the 1960 Heart Sunday city chairman for Daly City, was appointed co-chairman with responsibilities for Brisbane, Colma, Daly City, Pacifica, San Bruno and South San Francisco.

Mrs. Shipley said that the co-chairmen, along with 6,000 volunteers in San Mateo County, will be conducting a personal fight through the Heart Fund against 20 types of heart diseases and many kinds of blood vessel diseases.

"With all of us close, in some measure, to heart disease in our families and neighbors, the Heart Fund becomes a true community effort," Mrs. Shipley emphasized.

Realtor Named Manager of Produce Market

Primo R. Repetto, San Francisco real estate man, has been appointed manager of South San Francisco's new $4,500,000 Golden Gate Produce Terminal, Joseph Carcione of Best Fruit and Produce Company, president of the terminal, announced this week. Edward D. Peters of Burlingame is assistant manager and secretary of the firm, scheduled to open November 26.

Repetto, 41, heads San Francisco's Repetto Realty and Insurance Agency, which he started in 1951, and is managing the terminal in conjunction with his real estate business. In recent years, he has had insurance and real estate dealings with many of the produce merchants. In 1955, Repetto, with his Italian background and basic understanding of produce industry operations and personalities, became manager of the Associated Fruit and Produce Dealers of San Francisco.

Repetto helped put together the real estate package which is making it possible for 12 major wholesale produce dealers to move from the old San Francisco market to their own privately owned terminal.

Peters, 43, gained his knowledge of the produce industry through 15 years with Calavo Growers. He traveled throughout the western states and Canada as district manager for the avocado growers. He resigned in June, 1962, then spent time as a broker, further acquainting himself with farmers and shippers in this capacity. He started full-time with the Golden Gate Produce Terminal on November 1.

The terminal, located on a 16-acre site west of Bayshore Freeway, near the International Airport, is expected to attract buyers from all over the western United States. Member firms will do more than $75,000,000 gross annual business, and 1,000 jobs will be created by the market and satellite businesses.

FIRST AID CLASSES BEGIN IN PACIFICA

Advance registration is requested by calling the Red Cross, 355-4194. There is no charge for the course, although a textbook is required, which covers both the standard and advanced Red Cross first-aid courses.

A course will be given in the Pescador-La Honda area upon request of residents. Mr. and Mrs. George Elliot may be contacted at PE 2-4151.

Half Moon Bay residents may call the city hall and leave their names. They will be notified when a late November standard first-aid class will be scheduled, according to Police Chief Don Pearman.

Local Man Sales Representative for Allstate Insurance

Douglas W. Anderson has been appointed Allstate sales representative for the San Jose-Santa Clara area, according to W. Kel Potter, Allstate regional manager.

In his new position, Anderson will act as representative of the Allstate safety crusade, handle multiple lines of insurance and act as representative of the Allstate Motor Club.

Anderson resides with his wife, Jean, and their four children at 940 Skyline drive in Daly City.

Many New Features in '63 Corvette

The Corvette Sting Ray fiber glass body is completely new for 1963 and introduces for the first time in Corvette history new controlled cowl top ventilation, curved side window glass, an adjustable steering wheel, retractable headlamps. Steel is integrated with body panels for increased rigidity. Wrap-over doors and wrap-over rear windows are advance-designed features of the sport coupe models. The sleek-line styling of both the convertible and sport coupe Corvettes gives a feeling of motion even when the car is standing still. Shown above is the sport coupe.

CORVETTE FOR '63

Dramatic Changes Catch Public's Eye

The most dramatic changes in the 10-year history of the Chevrolet Corvette have been made in the 1963 models, to be shown at the Westlake Auto Show.

For the first time since its introduction in 1953, both body and chassis of America's only production sports car have been completely restyled and re-engineered.

Major 1963 innovation is the addition of a second model Corvette — an exciting "fastback" sport coupe for customers desiring closed car comfort with sports car appeal.

Besides the sport coupe, Corvette will again offer the convertible model with optional hardtop attachment. Both models will have identical front-end styling.

Both will be known as the "Sting Ray"—a name introduced on a recent Corvette experimental car. Their sleek fiberglass bodies—a construction pioneered by Corvette 10 years ago—were wind tunnel tested for aerodynamic efficiency.

In its 10th anniversary year, Corvette is broadening its base of customer appeal.

To the sports car enthusiast, it offers a host of mechanical improvements, including a completely new chassis, four-wheel independent suspension, self-adjusting brakes and improved steering.

To the customer who would like to drive a sports car but also wishes to retain the driving conveniences to which he has become accustomed, Corvette offers in 1963 for the first time optional power steering, power brakes and air-conditioning.

A dramatic feature on both models is retractable headlamps. Invisible until the driver presses a switch, the power-operated twin headlight units swing up from the leading edge of the airfoil-shaped front end. A second switch turns them on.

The 1963 Corvettes are two inches lower and four inches shorter in wheelbase than the 1962 models. Overall height is 49.8 inches, wheelbase is 98 inches, overall length is 175.3 inches and the weight of the sport coupe is 3,015 pounds, while weight of the convertible is 3,037 pounds.

Mechanical features include:

- The completely new chassis has a stronger frame. The rear axle differential is fixed to the frame, reducing upsprung weight and minimizing the floor tunnel height.
- The four-wheel independent suspension includes a new coil suspension in front with controlarms and linkage designed to match Corvette's new lower center of gravity. In the rear, a transverse leaf spring and new tubular, jointed axle shafts keep rear wheels nearly vertical. Rugged control arms absorb braking and driving forces, allowing the rear spring to act as a pure cushioning unit.
- Weight distribution puts more weight on the rear. For the first time in modern American history, a front engine car carries more weight on the rear wheels than on the front, giving better rear wheel traction.
- The self-adjusting brakes have 18 per cent greater bonded lining area with sintered-metallic facings available at extra cost. Cast aluminum wheels with knock-off hubs are available as an option.
- The steering wheel is adjustable at the dealership to the driver's personal preference. There is new ball-race steering gear and relay-type linkage with built-in hydraulic damper which isolates road shock.
- A wide variety of Corvette engines will continue to be offered with horsepower ranging from 250 to 360. There is a new fuel injection system on the 360 h.p. Ramjet Fuel Injection V-8. Delcotron generators are standard equipment.

Three-speed, four-speed and Powerglide transmissions with floor-mounted controls are available plus a wide range of power train options, including positraction axles.

The fiberglass bodies of the two Corvette models have more steel reinforcing members than in any previous Corvette. Despite their aerodynamic form, they have greater interior room and better visibility. Both models have generous luggage space immediately behind the passengers.

The front end of both Corvettes features a deeply recessed front grille and a low, tapered hood on which twin simulated grilles are mounted. Flanking the hood are arched front fenders. Twin simulated exhaust ports are sculptured into the fenders behind the front wheels. Both models have a crisp rear-end treatment with a horizontal peak line encircling the entire car.

The new "fast-back" sport coupe has a tapering roof line which blends into the rear deck in one continuous sweep. Wrap-over doors extend up into the roof panel to add entrance height and dual rear windows curve over the rear quarters for wide vision.

Inside, the Corvette offers a redesigned interior combining luxury with functionalism. All-vinyl trim in four colors is standard and saddle-colored genuine leather upholstery for the bucket seats is optional. Seat belts are standard equipment. Deep-twist carpet covers the floor and luggage area, and extends up into the door panels.

New Corvette interior features include crank-operated ventipanes, a redesigned instrument panel, a built-in high level ventilation system that brings in air from the outside, a locking glove compartment and a concealed storage compartment under the luggage floor for tools and small valuables.

Atop the smooth rear deck of both models is a large Corvette emblem which conceals a convenient, centrally located fuel filler. Because all luggage is loaded inside the car, there is no deck lid opening.

Spare tire and fuel tank locations are transposed, with the new 20-gallon fuel tank above the spare tire, which is enclosed and mounted on a hinged panel under the car to make it accessible without disturbing luggage.

Both new Corvette models are available in a choice of seven high-quality acrylic lacquer finishes, including one extra-coat iridescent silver tone. There are three color choices of convertible folding tops.

Tire Economy

Tests on the '63 Dodge Dart disclose that two-ply tires can carry as much load, with greater economy, than the old-fashioned four-ply tires, George Gibson, Dodge chief engineer, reports.

Safety Door Lock

Rear door lock buttons in the 1963 Dodge Dart must be pulled up before the door can be opened.

This feature assures maximum protection for children riding in the back seat.

The "brow" over the instrument cluster on the 1963 Dodge Dart keeps the instrument lights from reflecting in the windshield at night.

A new high output generator is featured on the 1963 Cadillac. This generator provides 42 amps in all models except air conditioned cars and the 75 Series which have a 52 amp output.

The 1963 Dodge Dart provides 38 inches of headroom in the front seat and 37.2 in the rear seat.
